HITLER SOFTENS CZECH STAND

FLOODS ABATE, EAST BURYING 500 GALE DEAD

Housing, Feeding of 12,000 Distressed Families Big Task of Relief Units.

SCORES STILL MISSING

Rescuers Believe Many Bodies Buried Under Sands Shifted by Huge Tidal Wave.

(By Associated Press)

Abating floods today gave the North Atlantic states time to bury their hurricane dead—nearly 500 in number—and begin the sorry task of rehabilitating areas stricken by the worst storm distaster to befall the nation in a decade.

Authorities in the seven afflicted states and at Washington, D. C., mobilized every available resource of man and money.

Most pressing of the problems in mopping up after Wednesday's hurricane—a scimitar of wind and tide that cost half a billion dollars in property damage—was the housing and feeding of 12,000 distressed families in New York, New Jersey and New England.

Fight Disease Threat.

Prompt emergency health measures by the Red Cross and other relief agencies apparently had ended the menace of the storm's grimmest aftermath — epidemic disease.

Over the flood-besieged 7-state sector, an army of 100,000 WPA workers and thousands of army and national guard troops and survivor volunteers — thoughtless of their own grief—poked through debris for the dead. Scores still were missing.

Red Cross officials expressed belief that many bodies, buried beneath tons of shifting sand, never would be found. The battering power of 30-foot tidal waves cut new inlets in many places along the coast, and ocean water flowed over wreckage thought to hold further dead.

Forecasts of generally fair weather accompanied the subsiding of flooded rivers in New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Flood Danger Passes.

Danger also lessened at Hartford, Conn., the "insurance capital," as the roaring Connecticut apparently passed its crest. A tenth of the city was still under water, however.

Little Rhode Island remained the focal point of relief efforts and extraordinary measures were taken to prevent pillaging of stores and looting of the dead. Flooded Providence, Woonsocket and Westerly, where more than 100 died, were under martial law.

The WPA dispatched 5,000 workers for rescue duty in answer to an appeal by Gov. Quinn, who estimated damage in the state at $100,000,000.

HERE MONDAY

Farley Stops in City; Will Be Greeted by Carriers.

Postmaster General James A. Farley, en route from St. Paul, Minn., to New York, will make a brief visit in Mansfield Monday afternoon.

Farley's train is scheduled to stop at Pennsylvania station at 4:29 p. m. He will be on his way home from St. Paul where he attended the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters in session there this week.

He will be greeted by Mansfield's postal carriers who will go to the station in a body, and as many postal clerks as can leave the office, according to Harry W. Zellner, superintendent of mails.

Stops also are scheduled for Bucyrus at 3:30 p. m., and Crestline at 4:04 p. m.

SHOT TO DEATH

Farmer Found Dead by Son, Probe Murder Theory.

VAN WERT—(AP)—Elva Wisener, 57, was found shot to death early today in the rear of his home and authorities expressed belief he might have been murdered.

The body was found by his son, Carl. Investigators discarded a robbery theory since the victim's money and watch had not been disturbed.

REJECT PEACE PLAN

TOLEDO—(AP)—Striking employes of the Federal Creosoting company rejected by a unanimous vote last night a company proposal which would have put them back to work with temporary wage increases. They have been on strike since April 8.

'The Peace of Our Times'---Saved or Lost?

On what transpired at the meeting of the men pictured above may hang what Prime Minister Chamberlain of England described as "the peace of Europe in our time." Chamberlain is shown at right as he conversed with Adolf Hitler in Godesberg on the Czechoslovakian question. Hitler is shown center, while at the left is Paul Schmidt, German foreign office interpreter. Chamberlain was back in London today, to relate to his cabinet colleagues what transpired during his conversations with Hitler.

CURTAIN RISES ON GRID DRAMA

Season Opens With Bang on All Fronts; Game Here in High School Spotlight.

That bang resounding from coast to coast today wasn't an echo from Europe, but merely the opening of the 1938 football season for the husky college teams and the resumption of play in the high school ranks.

A dozen or more colleges that annually rank among the best in the country were paired off. No one could predict what might happen, but about 250,000 fans were expected to be on hand for the six top attractions to find out for themselves.

There was some choice firing along the scholastic front, too. Heading the state's schoolboy program was the tussle at Stadium field between the Mansfield Tygers and Massillon Tigers, three-time state champion.

The day's biggest collegiate affairs pitted Alabama against Southern California, California against St. Mary's, Minnesota against Washington, Pittsburgh against West Virginia, Illinois against Ohio university, and Louisiana State against Mississippi.

Two of today's games might have important bearing on the mythical national title. Minnesota and Washington are in the running for the honor and their game will eliminate one in Minneapolis.

IT'S OFFICIAL

School Board Notified Bonds Passed, 6,812 to 3,134.

The Mansfield board of education was notified officially today that the $550,000 school bond issue passed at Tuesday's special election.

The official count, completed last night by the county board of elections, showed 6,812 votes for the bond issue, and 3,134 against it, the issue losing eight votes from the unofficial 6,816-3,138 count election night.

The 68.5 per cent majority was not changed although the official figures showed a total of 9,981 ballots were cast in the election, 27 more than the first count showed. Thirty-five ballots were defaced or blank and could not be counted either for or against the issue.

The school board is scheduled to meet Monday night to prepare for the bond sale and discuss the building program, due to get under way Oct. 29.

Terms of Hitler's Demands

BERLIN—(U.P.)—Germany's new terms to Czechoslovakia are understood to include the following:

1. Czechoslovakia must agree by Oct. 1 to the immediate withdrawal of Czech troops and police from the Sudeten areas to be turned over to Germany.
2. Immediate, peaceful occupation by German police and troops will follow.
3. All areas containing more than 70 per cent of Germans would be occupied immediately after Czech evacuation.
4. In districts containing a smaller percentage of Germans plebiscites would be held. An agreement would be made for exchanges of Germans and Czechs to make a homogenous population.
5. The figures on what communities have a clear German majority will rest on the figures of the communal election last May.

Government sources pointed out that Hitler's latest terms are a modification of his original demands.

Star Lakewood Marksman Carries Off Pistol Honors

Patrolman Scores 285 Out of Possible 300 to Capture Fourth Annual Ohio Police Matches at Armory.

A crack marksman from the Lakewood police department romped off with top honors in the fourth annual pistol matches sponsored by the Ohio Brotherhood of Police Officers which closed last night at the armory.

Patrolman A. P. Fellaborn of Lakewood captured the Class A division with a score of 285 out of a possible 300. Second honors went to Detective Peter Meyrlo of the Cleveland police department who posted a 276.

6 Given Special Awards.

Six "sharpshooter" awards were won by marksmen in the same division.

They were: Capt. J. W. Shumaker, Pennsylvania railroad police, Pittsburgh, 269; Ranger John Dickmeyer, Maderia, 268; Patrolman Glenn Hoover, Columbus, 264; Patrolman L. E. Schamadan, Cleveland, 262; Detective Mel Massey, Cleveland, 260, and Ranger W. H. Lux, Maderia, 260.

Class B honors went to Patrolman John R. Keeley of the East Cleveland department who scored a 235. Patrolman Harvey Wagner of Parma and Ranger William King of Maderia tied for second place with 233. The award went to Wagner for his proficiency in the rapid fire event.

Winners in the Class C division were Patrolman Arthur Atchison, Cambridge, and Patrolman R. L. Kottke, of Akron, who tied with a 143. First place trophy was awarded to Atchison because of his better score in the rapid fire event.

Only six Mansfielders entered the annual shoot which attracted more than 150 law enforcement officers from all parts of the state.

They were Lieut. Paul Whipp, who posted a 190; Patrolman O. D. Fair, last year's second place winner in the Class B division, who had 188; Patrolman John Gilbert with a 161; State Highway Patrolman L. D. Alexander, 182; E. J. White of the Pennsylvania railroad police, 104, and W. P. Lewis of the B. & O. railroad, 88.

Gold and silver trophies were awarded to first and second place winners in each of the three classes while sharpshooter and marksman medals were awarded to all officers shooting over 250.

Contestants in all divisions were required to fire two scores of five shots each at slow, timed and rapid fire at a distance of 25 yards.

ARLIN NAMED

Serves on Committee Studying State School Financing.

H. W. Arlin, president of the Mansfield board of education, had been named today by the Ohio Education association to a citizens' committee to study the state school financing problem.

The association announced it intended to set up a plan for liquidating a $17,000,000 deficit under the state school foundation program and to present the plan to the state legislature this winter.

The huge deficit threatens the entire foundation program unless a solution is found, state department of education officials said. Schools participating in the program, including the Mansfield and Richland county districts, have received their state allocation three months late for the past year because the state department lacked funds to make the quarterly distributions.

R. B. Ackerman of Galion was among the 19 named on the committee.

68 BIKE RIDERS HELD

SANDUSKY—(AP)—Sixty-eight boys were ordered today to appear in court Tuesday for traffic violations while riding bicycles. The bicycles were held by police to guarantee appearance of the boys.

City's Merchants Get Ready For Annual Fall Display Days

Mansfield merchants will join next week in one of their annual merchandising events—Fall Display Days—which will open Monday and continue through Saturday.

The hobby contest which the Retail Merchants are sponsoring will have a part in the event, the merchants association announced today.

Hobbies and collections of various kinds entered in the contest will be displayed in the stores of firms participating in the Fall Display Days, V. H. Lodde, secretary of the Retail Merchants association said today.

Another feature of the event will be a mis-spelled word contest, on cards in the windows of participating stores. The contest involves finding the mis-spelled word on each card and listing them on a blank (obtainable from participating stores) and after all 44 errors have been found, writing a 25-word essay on "Why I Should Make it a Hobby to Shop in Mansfield." Awards of $15, $10, $5 and ten $1 awards will go to the entries adjudged best.

Beside the cards, each of the 44 participating stores will have an unusual hobby display in its windows. Awards will also be given for the best hobbies.

Other features of the event will be "Style Day, Home Appliance Day, and Furniture Day," to be observed during the week.

MANSFIELDER HELD IN ARMED ROBBERY CASE

Youth and Cousin Accused of Holding Up Sanduskian and Forcing Him From Car.

COMPANION QUESTIONED

Police Arrest One Standing Beside Wrecked Machine With Gun in Hand.

Three youths, two of whom gave a Mansfield address, were held by Sandusky police today in connection with the robbery of a socially prominent Erie county resident last night.

Dispatches from Sandusky said Robert Farrow, 20, who gave a Park avenue west road address, and his cousin, Kenneth Huber, 26, of Columbus, were jailed on charges of armed robbery. The other Mansfield youth was held for investigation.

Held Up At Traffic Light.

Huber and Farrow were charged with holding up John Shoepfle, 23, of Sandusky as he stopped for a traffic light in Sandusky.

Shoepfle told police that Huber and Farrow, branishing revolvers, jumped on the running board of his car and forced him to drive to nearby Venice where he was robbed of $5 and thrown from the car.

He said he saved a $300 diamond ring by turning the stone towards the palm of his hand and switching off the dash light so it could not be noticed.

Police said that the pair confessed and said that it was their first attempt at robbery. They returned to Sandusky after the holdup and parted, Huber keeping the stolen car, later wrecking it at a grade crossing at the outskirts of the city, police reported.

Third Found In Bed.

Police cruising in the district said they found Huber standing beside the wrecked automobile with a revolver in his hand. Farrow was apprehended a few hours later while en route to Bayview in Huber's car.

The other Mansfield youth who had been staying with the pair at an aunt's cottage in Bayview was found in bed. He was held for questioning after police found a sawed off shotgun and another revolver, they said.

WAY UP HIGH!

Mercury Hits 80 as Autumn Gets Hot Start.

The recent summer cold spell was forgotten today as the mercury reached 78 at noon and Mansfielders discared their coats and let the furnace fire go out.

The first full day of autumn was due to see the temperature go above 80 degres this afternoon, but the weatherman said cooler weather will return tonight or Sunday.

After the mercury hovered around 40 degrees during the last week of summer, it went to 80 yesterday afternoon as a warm greeting to fall which began officially at noon Friday.

Skies will be clear over the week-end, the forecast said.

SEES NEED FOR 'BIGGER NAVY'

Senator Glass Points to European War Threats.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairman Glass (D-Va.,) of the senate appropriations committee said today that developments in Europe had convinced him this country should increase its naval expenditures.

"I have been opposed to those enormous appropriations for war purposes," the 80-year-old Virginia senator said in an interview, "but it begins to look as if it is inevitable and desirable to have larger naval appropriations."

Funds made available for the navy reached a high point for 18 years in this fiscal year, totaling approximately $616,000,000.

GAS PRICES CUT

Half-Cent Reduction Per Gallon Goes Into Effect Monday.

Mansfield autoists along with thousands of others throughout the state will benefit Monday from a one-half cent reduction in gasoline prices, announced today by the Standard Oil company of Ohio.

Gasoline stations operated by other oil companies are expected to fall in line although they had not been notified of any change yet today. The new prices will be 20 cents for high test gasoline and 18 cents for the regular fuel.

OHIO BUYS SPAN

East Liverpool-West Va., Span To Be Toll Free In 10 Years.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—(AP)—Robert Schiffer, secretary of the Ohio Bridge commission, announced today the purchase by the state of the East Liverpool-Chester, W. Va., toll bridge for $2,135,000.

Schiffer said the commission would issue and offer at public sale 15-year, 3½ per cent bonds to finance the purchase. The secretary said the commission hoped to make the bridge toll free within ten years.

Tells Chamberlain He'll Keep Troops Back Until Oct. 1

War or Peace?

BERLIN—(INS)—Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering today published a decree forbidding private airplanes to fly over Vienna and vicinity. Only regular commercial air-liners and government planes will be permitted to land at Aspern aerodrome.

BERLIN — (INS) — Czechoslovakia today suspended all railroad traffic into Germany. The German news agency DNB said the Czechs detained 30 German railwaymen at Lundenberg. An equal number of Czechs were held until the Germans were released.

BUCHAREST — (INS) — King Carol II called the Rumanian cabinet in a special meeting this afternoon to discuss the European situation. Reports unusual military measures had been taken were denied.

BERNE, Switzerland—(U.P.)—The government decided today to retain under the colors the troops scheduled to be released today on conclusion of the autumn maneuvers.

ROHRBACH, Germany—(AP)—Serious shooting affrays took place last night along the Austro-Czechoslovak frontier near here, with casualties on both sides.

ASCH, Czechoslovakia—(AP)—Czechoslovak border patrols and Sudeten fighters fought at the frontier near Muelbach this morning.

VIENNA—(INS)—A Czechoslovak airplane flew over the city of Vienna today, provoking fire from German anti-aircraft batteries. The plane wheeled and fled back to the Czech frontier.

LONDON—(INS)—Intermittent exchange of fire between Czech troops and Sudeten volunteers along the German-Czech border from Meulbach to Asch was reported by Reuter's agency today. There were no casualties.

GODESBERG—(INS)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler left Godesberg for Berlin by automobile this afternoon.

BUCHAREST, Rumania—(U.P.)—The government completed all arrangements for immediate mobilization of the Rumanian armed forces today. Posters announcing mobilization were distributed to local authorities throughout the kingdom to be put up on a moment's notice.

GOES ON BALLOT

Park Board Petitions Approved by Election Board.

The county board of elections today authorized the city of Mansfield to vote at the November election on the establishment of a non-partisan parks governing board.

Petitions seeking a referendum on the park board issue were approved late yesterday by the election board after an investigation of the signatures showed enough of them were legal to make the petitions valid.

Approximately 900 signatures, a number equal to 5 per cent of the city's electorate, were required. The petitions were filed by the Chamber of Commerce which is leading the campaign for a parks board.

If approved by a majority vote in November, the plan will provide for the naming of a board by the mayor to handle all park matters.

CARDINAL HURT

Papal Secretary Injured In Car Returning to Vatican.

CASTEL GANDOLFO—(AP)—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, was injured slightly on his forehead today when his automobile struck a tree after the chauffeur swerved to avoid hitting a child.

The papal secretary had been returning from Castel Gandolfo to the vatican to leave on a vacation in Switzerland when the accident occurred.

Chamberlain Promises He'll Attempt To Have Czechs Meet Demands For Demobilization by Oct. 1; Europe Arms For War Despite Hopes.

(Compiled From Latest Cables)

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler has promised Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain he will hold his hand from war until the first of October.

In exchange, the British premier has undertaken to advise Czechoslovakia in the strongest possible terms to capitulate and evacuate its troops entirely from the Sudeten area by that date.

These two statements summarize the outcome of the dramatic eleventh-hour conference between Chamberlain and Hitler at the Dreesen hotel in Godesberg, Germany, carried on late last night and early this morning while Europe already felt it was at war.

The highest authoritative sources outlined the results of the meeting to International News Service as Chamberlain flew back to London and Hitler planned to resume his affairs in Berlin.

If he has not already done so, Chamberlain will forward to the Prague government a memorandum setting forth the results of his discussions with Hitler, accompanying this with a personal, strongly-worded letter advising the Czechs to give in.

The memorandum will set forth the following demands, dictated by the fuehrer as his price for peace:

1. Immediate cessation of all warlike activity by the Czechs against the Sudetens.
2. Immediate Czech demobilization.

The memorandum, it is believed, also embraces a demand that military elements be ousted from the new Czech cabinet headed by General Jan Syrovy, inspector-general of the army, and contains an exact definition of the territory to be annexed by Germany.

Wants Rich Territory.

This includes the predominantly German areas of the Sudetenland and the city of Pilsen, equally famed for its beer and its armaments. The huge Czech Skoda munitions works, however, will be left to the Czechs although its production will be strangled by inclusion in the reich of the surrounding territory which supplies Skoda with its most essential raw materials.

If the Czechs agree to evacuate peacefully, war will be averted and PADUA, Italy—Mussolini declares Germany gave Czechoslovakia six-day ultimatum; warns Italy war may be outcome.

GODESBERG—New, undisclosed German demands reported already on way to Czechoslovakia.
ASCH—Czechoslovak border patrols and Sudeten German fighters clash near frontier; German-Czechoslovak railroad service halted.
MALTA—British Mediterranean naval base put on virtual wartime basis.
GENEVA—Powers line up their allies.
BUDAPEST—Hungarian-Czechoslovak border bristles; highway and telephone communications broken.
WARSAW—Poland apparently pressing independently for annexation of Polish-inhabited areas of Czechoslovakia.

LONDON: Chamberlain Gives Czechs Hitler's 'Final' Demand

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, returning from his second peace mission to Adolf Hitler, declared today that on peaceful solution of the Czechoslovak problem "turns the peace of Europe in our time."

The premier returned from Godesberg as all Europe rushed headlong into vast war preparations.

He had given Czechoslovakia Hitler's "final" demands on which a peaceful settlement could be based, and many believed the little republic, mobilizing its forces, would now resist.

Only about 200 persons greeted the premier at Heston airport in contrast to the vast cheering throng which speeded him away on his first mission to Germany, Sept. 15.

Chamberlain left the Godesberg conference last night with Hitler's "final" demands.

There was no mention of British support of these demands.

And it was doubted here that the new Czechoslovak military regime was in any mood to capitulate further to any demands by either Chamberlain or Hitler.

Britain called an emergency session of the cabinet to hear the prime minister's report on the Godesberg conversations.

"My first duty now that I have come back," Chamberlain said as he stepped out of his plane at Heston airport, "is to report to the British and French governments the result of my mission."

ITALY: 'Ready to Fight!', Duce Says, But Predicts Peace

PADUA, Italy — (INS) — To a crowd of 600,000 Paduans who shouted, "We are ready to fight," Premier Mussolini today predicted peace for Europe.

At the same time he revealed that Chancellor Hitler has given Prague until Oct. 1 to reply to his "final attitude" on the Sudeten question.

"The situation," said Il Duce to the roaring crowd, "is like the weather this morning. It is very gray, but soon the sun ought to come out.

"There are tendencies and currents which believe the time has come to settle accounts with the totalitarian nations. In this case they would find themselves not only against the Germans, but against a solid bloc."

"It is absurd and criminal that Europeans ought to hurl themselves against each other merely to keep President Benes (of Czechoslovakia) in well being.

"In the approaching days I ask you to maintain imperturbability because I know each and all of you are ready for any eventuality."

As the crowd bellowed "Yes, yes!" Il duce continued:

"Our approval echoes around the world."

Il duce expressed hope that any conflict between the Czechs and Germans would be localized, but declared that if it were not, Italy is prepared for any eventuality.

"We always seem to be in a public crisis of some kind nowadays," complains a peace-loving citizen. We always were.

Business Prospects.

THE domestic business outlook is hopeful, writes Col. Leonard P. Ayres, banker economist, in his latest business review. Factory and mining production have been advancing moderately. Iron, steel and cotton textiles have moved upward, though slowly. The basic iron and steel industry continues improving, but is not yet making money. The chief hopes in this country "are founded on prospects of bountiful crops, large public expenditures and a moderate upswing in building."

But abroad, he observes that war threats are demoralizing trade, and world trade in general is still shrinking.

Many, no doubt, have been wondering about the possibility of war trade, if hostilities break out in Europe on a big scale. Present laws prevent such munitions traffic as enriched America temporarily in the World war. It is impossible to say whether these restrictions would be removed or liberalized. Col. Ayres evidently has not been expecting any such boom.

The most discouraging fact is that as nations prepare for war, even if they do not actually engage in war, healthy international trade fades away. If, by a miracle of statesmanship, peace can be assured there will be a sudden, world-wide blossoming of normal business activities.

How Traffic Accidents Are Reduced.

WHENEVER a report comes of a city making an unusually good record in reduction of traffic accidents it is regularly noted that constant enforcement of traffic regulations plays a large part in the accomplishment.

Alliance is the most recent of Ohio cities to disclose an enviable traffic record, with no automobile deaths since August 21, 1937.

Police Chief Stark explains his six-plank platform, to which there is strict adherence:

Investigation of every accident, with prosecution if carelessness is the cause;

Invitation to citizens to make complaints of reckless driving, with prompt police inquiry following;

Publicity campaign, with warnings to parents and explanation of motoring dangers to drivers;

Operation of an active schoolboy patrol;

Traffic lights with a "double red" instead of amber interval of change;

Assignment of motorcycle officers to all school zones.

"Alliance motorists long ago learned that reckless driving would mean arrest," said Chief Stark. "Enforcement is constant rather than by spurts. When there is evidence of lawless driving, the guilty party should be arrested to set an example to others."

The "double red" is an idea worth considering for adoption in Mansfield. Here the interval of amber light is quite generally regarded as a signal to go on through or to start across before the light turns green.

Continuous enforcement of traffic regulations, instead of sporadic crusades, is also a point that might well be considered in this community.

Governor Davey's Usefulness Ended.

NEARING the end of his second term as governor of Ohio, Martin L. Davey was yesterday subjected to as vitriolic a rebuke by Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, also a Democrat, as it is possible to imagine—even in the heat of politics.

Mr. Kennedy, candidate of his party for re-election as secretary of state, charged Governor Davey with bringing about a "reign of terror" among non-classified state employes, and preventing them from expressing support of Sawyer for governor or participating in the Democratic state convention, before which the speech was made.

Discredited as governor of Ohio, repudiated by a majority of his party in the August primaries, and sulking bitterly since that time, it is obvious that Mr. Davey can be of no further valuable service in the office of governor.

His action yesterday, in dismissing Henry J. Berrodin, chief of the state division of aid for the aged, quickly followed Mr. Berrodin's statement that he would accede to the federal social security board's request for revision of the Ohio system.

Forecasting the probable conduct of Martin L. Davey for the next three and a half months, based on his record of the past several years, it may be anticipated that whatever he does will work to the detriment of the state and of the political party by which he was raised to unmerited eminence.

He will not do it, of course—for that would not be like him—but it may at least be suggested that the greatest service Martin L. Davey could render his state, and the Democratic party, would be to resign the governorship at once—so that public business, during the remainder of the year, would escape the venom of his characteristic pout.

Bike Trains Popular.

BIKE TRAINS and bike ferries are the latest developments in bicycling. These are excursions by land or water from cities to scenic regions out in the country. Bicycle owners and renters take their wheels and themselves by this means to the great outdoors where they pedal merrily over pleasant trails for a few hours before returning to the city's crowds and labors.

Like the snow trains which in recent winters have been taking clerks and office workers by the hundreds to hills where they ski and toboggan or to lakes and rivers where they skate, the bike trains are increasingly popular. They are evidence that Americans have learned to play and that even the city-bound, white-collar workers who haven't time for golf and don't own cars may enjoy generous doses of fresh air, exercise and fun at moderate cost.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—If a general war engulfs Europe, the important historical question of its exact opening date may never be answered.

Will history say it began with Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia or Hitler's occupation of the Rhineland in 1936? Franco's challenge to loyalist Spain in that same year? Hitler's occupation of Austria in 1938? Or some memorable date like Chamberlain's visit to Hitler?

The historian's problem arises from that strange practice.... shoot first, and declare war when it suits, if at all.

Civil wars within a nation long have started without any declarations, including the Spanish revolution, and our own war between the states.

Until the turn of the century, a declaration of war was a patriotic thrill. In ancient Rome they gave themselves over to a complete enjoyment of histrionics before the opposing armies fell on each other.

* * *

War After Dinner.

EMISSARIES of war were given honor. Great public spectacles greeted them. Plenty of banqueting intervened before the head emissary unruffled his toga and politely declared his host was a pain in the neck. Then everybody went home to buckle on his sword.

Today China and Japan are locked in a war a year old, and neither has hinted a declaration of war ever will be made.

In the past half century, the advent of modern war machinery had the effect of outmoding the practice of declaring war. The nation taking the offensive found it almost necessary to surprise the enemy.

Probably the last great war which was formally declared all along the line before hostilities began was the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. Both armies waited for a declaration of war. Even so, the German general staff had gone so far as to map out its mobilizations and army movements in advance. Germany won, by and large, because of advance preparation.

* * *

Then Came the Maine.

IN OUR own Spanish-American war in 1898 congress was caught off base by the sinking of the Maine, and was forced to content itself with recognizing on August 25 that a state of war had existed for four days. In this country, congress has to make it legal.

The next big conflagration was the Russo-Japanese war of 1905. A strategic naval battle had been fought and won by Japan's heroic Admiral Togo two days before war was declared.

The World war was little different. True, Austria declared war on Serbia. But the great powers were hiding their strategy and declarations would have given them away. The German army invaded Luxemburg two days before a declaration of war against France. France and Great Britain likewise were moving into battle formations before they go around to formal statements.

When we entered the World war, congress had a difficult time making up its mind, and when it did on April 6, 1917, the lawmakers decided to recognize the existence of a war that Germany had started against the United States months before.

This change in custom has played havoc with international law built up through centuries. A country declaring war is supposed to have certain belligerent rights, such as legal blockades, and the like. Neutrals have certain rights of free passage on high seas. A violator of these rights is supposed to be subject to damages.

Modern practices seem to have scrambled all that, despite Secretary of State Hull's appeal to reason and lawful procedure. The big objective of a war-bent nation today is always concealed, every invasion must appear to be a defense of national honor.

FOND OF ALL ANIMALS

Debt, Neutrality, War Referendum

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Gerald P. Nye's neutrality law, Senator Hiram W. Johnson's law against loans to countries which already are in default on indebtedness due to the United States, and Representative Louis Ludlow's proposed law to prevent Uncle Sam from getting into any more wars without a popular referendum—these three issues will be hotly contested on Capitol Hill when congress meets.

Senator Johnson's law is strictly workable. Everyone knows just what nations have welshed on their obligations to us. The law says specifically that they're to get no further American credit until they settle. Some interests, however, do want to extend further credit. They'd like to have the law repealed bodily.

Senator Nye's law has not proved at all effective. There are loopholes in it. They need to be plugged up, or that law, too, should be repealed, as a fizzle. Representative Ludlow's plan isn't a law at all. Ludlow introduced a referendum bill at the last congressional session, but it didn't pass. But he's going to try again. He has said so, and he promises to have considerable backing.

These issues might have hung fire for quite awhile but that the recent European situation has emphasized them.

* * *

WHAT IS A WAR?

The Nye law requires our president, whenever a war breaks out between or among any two or more countries, to proclaim our neutrality, to ban American sales of military supplies to either or any of the belligerents, and to warn American citizens to keep out of the danger zone or take their own consequences.

It's all right in theory. But what and when IS a war?

Time was when a country, going to war, DECLARED it.

Such declarations have gone out of fashion. The belligerents simply start fighting, without notice. We all are aware that war has been raging in China for more than a year, but it never was declared. Nominally it ISN'T raging.

Ditto Spain. No declaration. Therefore no war, technically. There's another complication in Spain's case. If it IS a war it classes as a civil war, and the Nye law refers only to international strife; it forgot to include internal commotions. Personally, I believe the Spanish conflict to be, really, international, but it doesn't so classify, according to strict definition.

President Roosevelt, standing on these quibbles, has disregarded the neutrality act, as to China and Spain.

Parenthetically, I don't think he likes the Nye law very well, anyway.

Well, why can't all Europe get to fighting without any formal declarations? It's the current custom. Then what becomes of the Nye law? It goes into the discard automatically. To be any good it's got to be strengthened, and that won't be easy in congress.

* * *

HOW TO CHOOSE?

To be sure, the Nye law doesn't prohibit American exports of non-military supplies to warring countries.

Civilian stuff is exportable.

It may, indeed, be difficult to distinguish between military and non-military junk. Cotton, for example, is a peaceful enough commodity for textile purposes, but not a bit so if intended to be used to sop up explosives.

Yet waive that point.

Even non-military exports are prohibited under the Johnson law if destined, on credit, to nations in default to America. Now, it stands to reason that fighting Europeans, already bankrupt, will have to buy from us, if at all, on credit.

It seems amazing to me that American exporters, already bilked by Europe (Finland excepted) should want more of the same from the same old defaulters. Nevertheless, they talk like it. They don't like the Johnson law.

* * *

OPPOSED AT TOP.

The executive administration in Washington is the outfit which opposes the Ludlow plan.

The White House can't declare war but it can, diplomatically, create a condition which may virtually, compel congress to do so.

If there has to be a popular referendum, back of congress, not only is congress hamstrung, but the executive administration is hamstrung likewise. It can't dicker with foreign powers with any certainty that popular support will be behind it. It can gamble pretty accurately on congress, but not on the electorate—as has been demonstrated by the recent "purge" campaign.

Listen, World!

Greatest—and Grimmest—Thing In Life.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT'S a tough task, in these dizzy days, to decide where we want to go, what we want to be, what we need to have, as we head into life.

So many things we may be or do. No wonder our dazed imaginations change their charts a dozen times a day or that we think so enviously of our fathers and their quiet, uncomplicated lives. If only we had it as easy as that, with none of these modern distractions! Following a plain, beaten path . . . knowing just what to do and doing it . . . everything mapped out for you before you even start. Yes, it sounds easy, doesn't it? And yet—

Fundamentally, Dad's problem was no different than ours—or Adam's! No matter how life's outer frame has changed, it's inner plan has never altered from the start. Always, from the world's gray dawn, there has been one thing—and just one thing—which a man must have to make his existence worth while . . . and, lacking which, he might better be dead. And that was—

SELF-RESPECT.

Self-respect . . . there's your fixed goal in life . . . your first job . . . your final law . . . your indispensable need.

Times may seem to have changed. You may face endless temptations and opportunities, adventures and handicaps which your fathers and mothers never imagined. Every material aspect of life may seem to be altered. Even the moral code may have changed beyond recognition. But beneath all this surface shift, there is something which has not changed, something which still remains the immutable test of every wish or deed—

Money is not the test—

Power and position are not the test—

Nor happiness—nor fame—

Nor even the love and approval of others—

SELF-RESPECT IS THE ONLY TRUE TEST OF ANY ACT.

You wish or are urged to do something?

Can you do this thing and still keep faith with yourself?

Can you do it and still be proud of yourself even thought it may mean rags and wrath and ridicule?

If you can, then it's the right thing to do, no matter what it costs you.

AND IF YOU CAN'T THEN IT'S THE WRONG THING TO DO, THE THING THAT MEANS DEATH TO JOY AND PEACE AND PRIDE. NO MATTER HOW IT REWARDS YOU.

Your own rating of yourself, that's the one thing you can't evade, the thing you must live with always. You may hide yourself beneath trickery . . . you may wrap yourself in glory . . . but in the end, these devices will all drop away, as your clothes drop away at night, layer upon layer, and leave you naked and alone, with your bunions and bowlegs bare before that last, inexorable Judge—YOURSELF . . .

TO DECIDE WHETHER YOU'RE HERO OR HEEL!

And there's one verdict you can't duck! Or hide! For it will be marked on every word you say, every thought you think, every act you commit. You can no more hide the cowardice or dishonesty or meanness or foulness in yourself than you can hide the sun. Physically you may strut like a turkey but if your soul is in the mud, every man will see it slinking behind you . . . hear it shuddering in terror . . . or snarling in hate. There is no longer such a thing as a "secret self." Science has torn down our hideaways. We are as conspicuous as Neon signs.

AND AS WE RATE OURSELVES, OTHERS WILL RATE US.

We determine the respect we receive in this world . . . we establish our own rights. Men take us as we are not as we pretend to be.

RESPECT YOURSELF . . . OR PREPARE TO TAKE THE COUNT.

2. Labor's Non-Partisan League for Independent Political Action.
3. This custom may be a relic of the ancient custom of giving a shoe to another to symbolize transfer of possession.

What's Happened?

Week-End Summary of Current Events.

ADOLF HITLER this week held a gun to the world's head with one hand and got ready to re-draw the map of Europe with the other. For England and France had decided on "peace at any price"—as long as Czechoslovakia paid it. And Hitler's price was a slice of Czech land.

At beautiful Godesberg, on the Rhine, England's Prime Minister Chamberlain met Hitler Thursday to close the deal. Just one week had gone by since the conference at Hitler's mountain chalet Sept. 15, when the stiff Britisher unbent to receive the mercurial fuehrer's terms. Events of the intervening six days packed American newspapers with a heap o' history.

Stunned by the attitude of Great Britain and France, the Czech government proclaimed a nation-wide state of emergency and later announced surrender.

Public hostility in Czechoslovakia brought demands for a military dictatorship and Premier Hodza's cabinet resigned.

Formation of a new cabinet headed by General Jan Syrovy was announced by President Benes.

Highly-elated Hitler and his followers prepared to take over the Sudeten areas, ordered immediate withdrawal of Czechs from that territory, and turned eyes toward the wheat and oil fields of Rumania.

Politics

In New York's "gashouse district" lie some of the city's toniest penthouses and some of its most miserable cold-water tenements. There, last Tuesday, President Roosevelt won his first victory in four attempts to "purge" congress of anti-New Deal Democrats.

The victim was Rep. John J. O'Connor, brother of the president's former law partner, who has represented the "gashouse district" in congress since 1923. He lost the Democratic nomination to James H. Fay, a former federal tax collector, who looks a good deal like Postmaster General James A. Farley.

What It Means.

But O'Connor's defeat as a Democrat didn't mean, necessarily, that he will be an ex-congressman. For he had dropped an anchor to the windward by getting the Republicans to renominate him for his old job. Fay, also nominated by the American Labor party, still has to fight it out with O'Connor in the November finals.

The primary results did mean that O'Connor, even if elected in November as a Republican, will lose his job as chairman of the powerful house rules committee. And it was his opposition to the reorganization bill in the rules committee, observers agreed, that had put him on the president's blacklist.

Curley and Hurley.

Other primary results Tuesday: Massachusetts Democrats nominated colorful ex-Gov. James C. Curley for governor over Gov. Charles F. Hurley, the first incumbent in modern Bay State history to be refused renomination. Curley's November opponent will be socially prominent Leverett Saltonstall, 46, who won by a landslide over three Republican primary rivals.

Wisconsin has three major parties, and all nominated candidates for governor and senator. For governor: Gov. Philip F. La Follette, Progressive, running for his fourth term; Robert K. Henry, Democrat; Julius P. Heil, Republican. For senator: Herman L. Ekern, Progressive; Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Democrat, unopposed; Alexander Wiley, Republican.

People

Oddly Enough.

John Nokes, of St. Louis, lost his left ear in an auto accident. A policeman found it, and a doctor sewed it on again. . . . A Chicago judge ruled that only policemen may swipe apples off sidewalk fruit stands. . . . A defeated candidate for governor of Arizona listed "the loss of three months' sleep" among campaign expenses. . . . Rats stole the $12,000 in stocks, bonds and currency that a Morristown, N. J., woman hid in a fireplace.

* * *

Elmer Out West.

Los Angeles entertained 150,000 American Legionnaires and their women folk this week, and vice versa. The visitors also cheered speeches urging a bigger U. S. navy, American neutrality in world troubles and war against "subversive enemies" at home; picked Stephen F. Chadwick, a Seattle lawyer and foe of communism, as the Legion's new national commander; and decided to hold their 21st annual convention, next year, in Chicago.

* * *

Drunkards Defined.

There are six stages of drunkenness, Dr. Robert A. Kilduffe, of Atlantic City, told the International Association of Police and Fire Surgeons last week-end: (1) Dry and decent, (2) delighted and devilish, (3) delinquent and disgusting, (4) dizzy and delirious, (5) dazed and dejected, (6) dead drunk.

At Home

Weather: All Sorts.

Florida prepared for a hurricane early this week, but the storm swept northward in the Atlantic and cut across Long Island and lower New England, already drenched by several days' rain. Wind and floods together gave the industrial northeast its worst storm in 115 years.

Estimates ran as high as 500 persons killed in seven states. The coast guard estimated 500 to 700 boats were sunk or washed ashore, and sent 2,500 men to the rescue. A 100-mile-an-hour gale damaged Long Island's wealthy South Shore, Massachusetts' Cape Cod, and Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Power failures blacked out Manhattan and other cities. The damage ran to untold millions.

The southwest, too, had stormy weather, and there were floods in Texas. Many sections of the midwest, meanwhile, reported this fall's first frost and the far northwest sweltered in heat that reached 98 degrees at Spokane, Wash.

* * *

Brakeman's Error.

On a siding at Niland, Calif., the Southern Pacific's Los Angeles-to-Chicago "Californian" waited last Tuesday noon to let the New Orleans-to-Los Angeles "Argonaut" pass on the main track. Instead of passing, the "Argonaut" crashed head-on, at 60 miles an hour, into the "Californian." Eleven people were killed and 100 injured. An official of the railroad said a brakeman had pulled a switch at the wrong time.

* * *

Doctors and Taxes.

At a national health conference last July, a committee appointed by President Roosevelt outlined $850,000,000-a-year program of tax-paid medical care of people too poor to pay doctor and hospital bills. Officers of the American Medical association were critical of the idea but, at Chicago last week-end AMA's house of delegates adopted a series of "almost revolutionary" recommendations which agreed, in most major principles, with the presidential committee's program.

Economics

Labor Disputes.

Hickory dickory dock,
My school books are in hock;
And now I cannot concentrate,
Because the boss won't arbitrate.

Children carrying that modern nursery rhyme on slate-like placards appeared on San Francisco picket lines as labor leaders and department store owners got together in an attempt to end a 2-week-old retail clerks' strike.

In New York, a 7-day truck strike not okayed by the drivers' union leaders, tied up an estimated 75 per cent of the city's motor haulage but didn't interfere with food deliveries.

At Toledo armed guards patrolled a creosoting plant after 16 men were wounded by shotgun pellets in a strike riot during a controversy between the company and AFL unionists.

At New Castle, Ind., pickets with baseball bats enforced a strike by CIO auto workers against a Chrysler plant while conferees sought an end to a walkout affecting 2,500 workers.

* * *

Voices of Business.

Many nation's business men met this week in Washington for an International Management Congress.

Czechoslovakia was represented by Dr. Emanuel Slechta, who thinks "the whole world is in need of better international management; Germany by Dr. George Seebauer, who said assurance of work for all able Germans "has created a most valuable feeling of economic security"; France by Alex Brule, who declared "unemployment and pauperism must disappear"; and Britain by Viscount Leverhulme, who agreed with U. S. Secretary of State Hull that freer international trade "can diminish the recurring threats of war."

* * *

Railroad Relief.

Railways and their employes have argued all summer about a proposed 15 per cent wage cut, scheduled for Oct. 1, and results of a strike vote will be revealed Monday.

President Roosevelt this week (1) said he would appoint a commission to study the dispute, a move that would delay a strike; and (2) asked a committee representing both management and labor to see what the next congress can do to rehabilitate the nation's transportation system.

* * *

Trouble Shot.

President Homer Martin of CIO's United Auto Workers accused four fellow officers recently of plotting with communists, and had them expelled. And when CIO Chief John L. Lewis suggested they be reinstated, Martin accused him of dictatorial interference. Lewis sent trouble-shooters to Detroit anyway.

In Short

Scheduled: A federal monopoly investigation of national radio networks.

Appointed: F. F. Hill, to succeed William I. Myers, as governor of the federal farm credit administration.

Indicted: 24 Indiana election officials, on charges of violating state election laws; 10 Philadelphia prison officials on charges ranging from manslaughter to murder, in connection with the "baking to death" of four convicts.

Married: Edna June Cantor, Eddie's daughter, to James Francis McHugh, jr.; Genevieve Tobin, movie actress, to William Keighley, director; Shirley Ross movie actress, to Ken Dolan, actors' agent.

Died: Jasper Tully, Irish patriot; Edward D. Duffield, insurance executive; Russell Gardner, automobile pioneer; Dr. James E. Boyle, educator; Pauline Frederick, one-time favorite stage and screen actress; Major Gen. Oscar Westover, chief of the army air corps, in a plane crash.

Art Study Club President Has Luncheon Friday for Members

FOR the first meeting of the club year there were 27 members of the Art Study club in attendance at the luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Fort, president, of the organization, yesterday. Luncheon was served at small tables arranged in the various rooms of the house at 720 Highland avenue. Garden flowers were used as decorations.

Assisting Mrs. Fort with the luncheon were Mrs. Fred Dippman and Mrs. Frank Leavitt. After the short business meeting, Mrs. Carl Spangler talked on the highlights of the year's program which includes the study of China and Chinese art.

The study program will take up the geography, economic growth and history of the country in addition to all varieties of Oriental art, both ancient and modern.

Miss Lillian Dickson, Woodland, will entertain the group at her home in Woodland, Oct. 7. She will be assisted by Mrs. Harry Buchan and Miss Cora Walsh. Mrs. K. E. Buhr is scheduled to give the paper and current events will be presented by Miss Lena Bowman.

Mother, Sister of Bride-Elect Entertain at Evening Affair

GUESTS from a number of nearby communities were present last night at 11 Flint street, to honor Miss Bettie Fichter at a miscellaneous shower and party. Hostesses for the affair were Miss Fichter's mother and sister, Mrs. J. G. Fichter and Mrs. D. C. Adams, Adario.

The 18 friends played games during the evening with prizes going to Miss Ruby Cook and Mrs. Cedric Mathias. The winners gave their prizes to the guest of honor.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Claire Crock, Mt. Gilead; Mrs. Philip Reider, Bellville; Mrs. Felton Hariston, Shenandoah; Mrs. H. Cronenwett, Shelby; Mrs. Cooper Adams, Shelby, and Mrs. Emmett Adams, Adario.

Luncheon was served to the guests at four tables, and the miscellaneous gifts were then presented. Miss Fichter's sister presented a gift of china, and her mother one of linen.

The honored guest will become the bride of Roland H. Flowers, Galion, at the First Christian church Oct. 2 at 2 p. m.

Among the other affairs being planned for the bride-elect is a shower Tuesday evening given by Mrs. Sam Moore, and a party Wednesday evening to be given by Mrs. Paul Zimmerman and Miss Jean Shively at the latter's home on West Fourth street.

PYTHIAN PARTY.

Mrs. Nellie Aplin, Park avenue west, assisted by Mrs. Miriam Hoffman entertained 24 members and guests of the Pythian Sisters at a social meeting. Contests and games were won by Miss Adeline Underwood, Miss Lenore Horn, Mrs. Emma Schocker, and Mrs. Nellie Phipps. The next meeting will be Oct. 28 with Mrs. Alta Ruby, 274 South Main street, with Mrs. Ethel Smith assisting.

HAVE SESSION.

The Lady Owls had their regular meeting last night with Mrs. May Bookman, president, in charge of the session held at the home on North Main street. The next meeting will be Oct. 14.

* * *

FETE SUMMER BRIDE.

Mrs. I. H. Munster, Davis road, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower last night given for Mrs. I. M. Mosberg, the former Miss Lillian Sunkel, a bride of July. Bridge and other games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Dave Mosberg, Mrs. D. Ellison and Miss Ardell Gates. The guest of honor was presented with these awards, and with a gift of linen by the hostess.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, September 25.

SUNDAY'S HOROSCOPE is an excellent one for affairs of the church and state, as well as for all those activities that spell promotion, achievement and fulfilled desires of a social nature. Withal, there may be a rather sensational or unusual development in private or romantic associations, but generally matters should flourish and bring happiness.

If This Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a year of opportunity and advancement, with fortunes growing by some sudden speculative coup or by the intervention of a person of prestige and position.

A child born on this day may be well equipped for a happy and prosperous life, being cultured, ambitious and of fine social, moral and intellectual standing. It may rise to influential position in education, religion or politics.

For Monday, September 26.

MONDAY'S ASTROLOGICAL forecast is for a lively and enterprising day, although the high-pressure activity may lead into certain treacherous or malicious channels.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively and productive year, the success of which may incite venomous and envious attack of a subtle nature. It would be well to circumvent such possibility by worthiness, integrity of purpose and soundness of objectives. Take precaution and particular care not to leave weak spots in writings or documents, or other vulnerable points, being careful not to be involved in intrigues or plots.

A child born on this day may be inclined to be clever, shrewd, crafty, leaning toward intrigue, schemes and conspiracies. It may be very facile with its pen and probably speech as well. Nevertheless, it may be favored by its superiors.

Announce Entries For Horse Show at Raemelton Farms

Blue ribbon horses will parade at the Raemelton Riding hall when outstanding horses from Ohio and bordering states come to Mansfield for the Raemelton Riding club's horse show Sunday afternoon, Oct. 2.

Mrs. L. B. Hamilton, Riding club secretary, today announced that more than 25 entries already have been received.

Among the latest entrants are the stables of Dr. Robert H. Elred of Toledo. Among his entries is a five-gaited mare which has won 22 blue ribbons and was the Ohio State fair's five-gaited champion last year.

Other entries announced by Mrs. Hamilton today included the stables of James Marher of Blindon Farm, Columbus; Eli Long of White Star Farm, Delaware; James Cassin of Jackson, Mich.; Charles Burris of Ashland; Mrs. Fred Hill of Hillsboro Farm, Columbus; Judge W. H. Vodrey of Beaverkettle Farm, East Liverpool; Harry Collin of Toledo; Dr. W. E. Brogden of Canton; and F. D. Schmidt of Canton.

As an added feature for the show, the Raemelton stables will show a colt born only a few days ago and twin colts which also are the pride of the stables.

Mrs. Herbert Hostess To Johnny Appleseed Group

Mrs. Joy Herbert, 476 Marion avenue, entertained members of the Johnny Appleseed Garden club yesterday at her home for the regular program and luncheon. A paper on cactus was presented by Mrs. John Clemens, and Mrs. J. T. Lusignan gave the garden calendar.

Following the meeting luncheon was served. Mrs. Carl Gibson will be hostess to the club members, Oct. 7.

* * *

MRS. VINSON HOSTESS.

Members of Circle Three of the Park Avenue Baptist church were the guests yesterday of Mrs. Glenn Vinson, Glenleigh Farms. Mrs. Scott Hagerman conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. W. E. Wygant presented the devotions to the 24 members and guests. A report on the house party at the state convention in June was given by Miss Hazel McMeekin. A buffet luncheon was served with Mrs. Frances Scattergood pouring. The next meeting will be Oct. 28 with Mrs. C. S. Lake.

* * *

ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON.

Mrs. J. M. Johnston and Mrs W. R. King were hostesses yesterday to a small group of out-of-town guests at a luncheon at the Colonial Guest house. After the luncheon the group was entertained socially at Mrs. King's home on Edgewood road.

DISCLOSE BETROTHAL AT PARTY LAST NIGHT

Miss Lucille Laycock, George Grega Select Oct. 1 for Wedding Date; Ceremony Will Be Performed at Parsonage.

ANOTHER marriage of future date was disclosed last night at an announcement party and surprise miscellaneous shower given at the Beverage tea room. A large white truck pasted with labels and bearing the names of the betrothed couple was used as a centerpiece for the table at which the two-course luncheon was served. A pastel color scheme was used.

The engaged couple are Miss Lucille Laycock, daughter of Mrs. Helen Laycock, 91½ East Fourth, and George Grega, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grega, 101 Lily street. They will be married Oct. 1 in the parsonage of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Wayne Baker. Bridge was played at three tables, and prizes were presented to Mrs. Lionel Smaltz and Mrs. Harry Hollingsworth. The winners gave their awards to the bride-elect.

After cards the group went to Mrs. Baker's home, 142 Bowman street, for the shower of miscellaneous gifts. The hostesses presented a gift of china. Mrs. Hollingsworth, 284 Hedges street, is planning a party for Miss Laycock next week.

Miss Laycock, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, was employed at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. Mr. Grega operates a Cities Service station here.

Two Guests Present At Card Club Social Affair

There were two guests, Mrs. Frank Eckerly, Weston, W. Va., and Mrs. J. J. Stillets, Hyde Park, Pa., present last night at the meeting of the L'Allegro club at the home of Mrs. Arthur Shay, 701 Bowman street. Five hundred was played at two tables.

High score award was presented to Mrs. J. C. Hamilton, and the two guests also received prizes. Mrs. Shay was given a handkerchief shower in honor of her birthday. The next meeting will be Oct. 7 at the home of Mrs. C. L. Mauk, 36 Dawson avenue.

Mrs. Birch Gives Review Friday at Astowela Session

A review of the book, "A Home In the Country" by Frederick Van de Water was reviewed by Mrs. L. W. Birch yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the Astowela Garden club which was held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Perl, Penn avenue. Mrs. W. J. Spreng assisted.

The book tells of the experiences of a New York couple who bought a Vermont home in the country, and remodeled and repaired it to suit their needs.

Mrs. H. W. Armstrong was a guest of the group. Following a tour of the hostesses' gardens luncheon was served. The next meeting will be Oct. 7 with Mrs. George Holland as hostess assisted by Mrs. P. J. Kelley. "Dessert Flowers" is the title of the paper which will be given by Miss Elizabeth Fisher, guest speaker.

Planting of Trees Topic For Club's Discussion

Mrs. Wesley Boals was hostess to 15 members of the Pavonia Garden club Thursday at her home when the topic "The Care and Planting of Trees" was studied. Miss Caroline Hughes and Mrs. Foster Groff were in charge.

Contests were conducted and Tressie Hubbs was the winner. Mrs. Charles Henry and Mrs. Charles Kagey assisted the hostess with the serving of refreshments. The next meeting will be with Mrs. George Robinson, Oct. 13.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"THAT IS not news to me, Noel," I told Mary's troubled young husband when he said that he was afraid his father had spies at the hotel where Mary and I were staying. "We already have had experience of the espionage upon us which your father has established."

"Then how—" Noel's perplexed voice trailed off into space, and I answered his unspoken question.

"You are not coming to our hotel," I said, voicing a plan I had concocted before the present emergency. "You will go to some other hotel and register for yourself, your wife, and also for me—a room on the same floor.

But of one thing I was sure as I was of life itself. If Philip Veritzen should be successful in his plot against Mary, despite my counter-plotting, and should take the leading role in my play away from her, telling her that she was incompetent, then nothing on earth could keep Noel from an open break with his father, and an espousal of his wife's cause.

Knows Danger.

In his arrogance, Philip Veritzen was blind to this possibility, I was sure. He was counting on Olina's charm—and the little god, Propinquity—to weaken Noel's allegiance to Mary.

I knew the dangers of these to a man less insulated than Noel. It was one reason why I had determined to risk Philip Veritzen's truly Olympian wrath and give Noel a chance to bask in the sunshine of his lovely young wife's presence.

I had reached the kitchen door by the time I had finished my reverie, and found Katie sitting by the table with a distinctly lugubrious face.

"Me, I feex oop such nice sooper," she said dolorously as I entered, "und dot Meester Veritzen, he go avay mitout even cooming near dining room."

At Keyhole Again.

"I know Katie," I said sympathetically, "but I didn't want him to stay any longer. I was glad he left. But Mr. Noel is hungry enough, I fancy, to eat everything you have prepared. His father had something to eat before they came, but Mr. Noel wasn't hungry then."

She had flown into action with my first intimation of Noel's need, and she turned from the stove, where she was putting on the coffee, with a comprehending smile.

"Dot because he tink he haf to steeck round all time mit dot Olina princess," she said shrewdly. "Now he know—"

She clapped her hand over her mouth suddenly while her eyes avoided mine. I knew the answer. She had been listening at the keyhole again, and had heard what I had said to Noel. I felt anger run over me like a flame at this repetition of Katie's "snooping," her chief fault, which I credulously had thought she had overcome.

I waited until I could control my voice, the while Katie's eyes roved restlessly around the room, consistently avoiding mine.

"Finish your sentence, Katie," I said quietly but with authority in my voice. "What is it that Mr. Noel knows now."

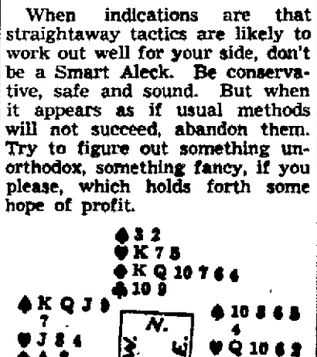
"The Authority on Authorities"

A TIME TO BE FANCY

When indications are that straightaway tactics are likely to work out well for your side, don't be a Smart Aleck. Be conservative, safe and sound. But when it appears as if usual methods will not succeed, abandon them. Try to figure out something unorthodox, something fancy, if you please, which holds forth some hope of profit.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

The bidding on this deal began with South calling 1-Club, which West overcalled with 1-Spade. North put in a bid of 2-Diamonds and East 2-Spades. South, with a free bid injected by his partner, decided to jump to 5-Clubs.

West's normal opening against the contract was the Spade K but before attempting he tried to figure out some way in which he could develop a setting trick. The club K and diamond A were counted as two winners, but one more was necessary to upset Souths' contract.

Figuring from the bidding that South had no spade losers and that East had very little besides spades for his raise, West selected the heart 4 for his original lead. Declarer won with the heart K and finessed the club 10, which lost to West's K. Another heart was returned and taken with the A, but when the diamond was tried, South had to lose to the A of that suit and a heart.

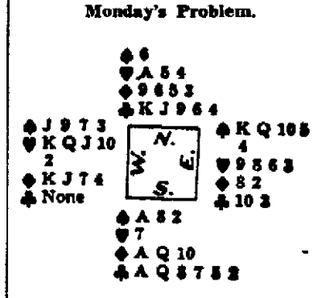
Monday's Problem.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

With the heart K led against South's 6-Club contract, what is his best method of play?

Semi-Pros Open Sunday With Detroit at League Park

Willard Stars at End As Carroll Wins Opener.

Playing a spectacular game at an end position, Ed Willard, Mansfield boy, was one of the outstanding stars as John Carroll opened their 1938 season with a one-sided 19 to 0 victory over Detroit Tech in Cleveland last night.

In addition to playing a sensational defensive game, Willard scored one of the three Carroll touchdowns. He made a nice catch of a pass in the end zone in the final period to tally the last touchdown.

Bellville Wallops Bulldogs

UNLEASHING a pile-driving running attack, Bellville high's snappy grid aggregation registered its second straight triumph of the season yesterday when it walloped a fighting Butler machine, 21 to 6, before a large crowd at Butler.

The Bulldogs' rugged line held Bellville in check in the opening frame, but once Coach Royd Hodges' outfit began to click it dominated play throughout the contest.

Uses Power to Score.

Bellville chalked up markers in each of the last three stanzas, all of them the result of power plays. Butler tallied its lone score late in the final quarter.

After battling through a scoreless first period, Bellville started from its own 15 and marked up seven first downs as it marched straight down the field, with Beryl Balliett crashing over from the five. Sheriff added the extra point on a line plunge.

Shortly after the opening of the second half, Bellville again staged a touchdown march from its own 45 with Howard Hamilton going over tackle. Sheriff again added the point with a plunge.

The final Bellville score climaxed another 65-yard march with Hamilton taking a short pass from Don Palm in the end zone. Hamilton kick for the point split the uprights.

Butler Scores Late.

The Bulldogs finally penetrated Bellville's sturdy line in the closing minutes of the game to register their score. The touchdown march was aided by a 15-yard penalty against Bellville which gave the losers the ball on Bellville's 15. Ken Miller caught a pass in the end zone for the touchdown. Ward's kick was low. Bellville chalked up 20 first downs to Butler's three.

Featuring their 20-hit attack with four home runs, Unit No. 1 softballers of the WPA league, defeated Brady's All Stars, 16 to 5, at Johns park yesterday.

Casper collected two circuit clouts and two singles to pace the winners at the plate. McCarter and Moore socked out the other homers. Unit No. 1 grabbed a commanding 13 to 0 lead before the All Stars were able to score. Prosser secured a triple and two singles for the losers.

Tackle Former Champs

Kallmerten-Baer Lineup for Inaugural Contest Remains Doubtful.

COACH GIP MILLER'S Kallmerten & Baer Coals will lift the lid on their semi-professional football schedule at 2:30 p. m. Sunday against the Pi Rho Phi club of Detroit at League park.

Miller will present a lineup Sunday that will include a number of former Mansfield high school stars in addition to semi-pro favorites of last season.

Starters Doubtful.

While Miller is doubtful about his starting lineup, he is confident that he can place a team on the field that will hold its own with the highly-touted Detroiters.

Listed among the backs Miller will have available are Rabbit Siler, who has starred in semi-pro ranks hereabouts for several years; Tom Powers, veteran Ashland star; Vern Heiser and Gil Weigand.

Linemen on the squad include Pete Risser, late of Ashland high, who was selected on the All-N. C. O. league team three years in a row at as many positions; Jack Priess, twice an All-Mid-State league tackle at Madison; Paul Sturgeon, Dan Stehle, Boy Taylor, Harper Au, Socks La Rue, Gaylord Bucher, Tony Schadek, Ferd Schwaner, George Hummel, Christ Kilzer, Mike Miller and Mike Rachel.

Bucher was named to the All-Ohio high school team twice at a guard position while playing at Mansfield high.

The Kallmerten & Baer club faces anything but an easy assignment in its inaugural.

Former semi-pro champions of Michigan, the Detroit club won seven games last year, including a victory over the Mansfield Pros. The Detroit team has been strengthened considerably this year, Business Manager John Villella has learned.

Bring College Stars.

The Detroit lineup includes college and former Auto City high school stars.

Ex-collegians on the team are Randell Gray, guard, of Monmouth; Vic Jodway, quarterback, of Olivet; Harold Hill, center, Michigan; Bill Kulin, halfback, Rutgers; John Ference, halfback, Northwestern, and Bill Weber, tackle, Western State.

Galion Whips Hutson Team Before 3,500

GALION—Galion high's defending championship North Central Ohio league champions came through with its second victory of the year here at Heise park last night as they defeated a stubborn Crestline combine, 24 to 0, before a crowd estimated at 3,500.

Galion, which defeated Mt. Gilead in its opener last week, scored touchdowns in each of the four periods to down the neighboring city outfit.

The Orangemen's attack was paced by Durtschi, who crossed into pay dirt for three of the scores. His longest run a 16-yard dash in the final stanza. Schreck hit right tackle from the nine for the other marker.

Whizzer White Stopped; But Pirates Win, 17-3.

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and their famed scholar and halfback, Whizzer White, were in the win column of the National professional football league today for the first time by virtue of a 17 to 3 victory last night over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The feature of the contest was the utter ineffectiveness of White, whom the Dodgers stopped for a loss of a yard in 15 ball-running attempts.

Gene Harmon, Bill Wilkins Lead Rams to 69-13 Revenge Victory

Speedy Halfback, End Score Nine Touchdowns in Win Over New London.

By CHARLES MARTIN

MADISON'S rampaging Rams stepped out on their home field last night under the floodlights and squared things with a team which in two previous tilts had handed them stinging defeats.

Striking with the rapidity of lightning, Coach Al Fendrick's classy aggregation, paced by Gene Harmon and Bill Wilkins, released its steam roller attack to smother New London, 69 to 13, before a near capacity crowd.

'Jinx' No Longer.

With Harmon and Wilkins accounting for nine of the 10 touchdowns, the Rams piled up points at will against the team which heretofore had proved a "jinx" to them.

Fendrick sent 38 players into the fray, but even then the invaders were unable to do any real damage. Not once against the regulars was New London able to penetrate inside the Rams' 30, and only once to that point with the aid of a 15-yard penalty.

Madison started the rout in the opening stanza by pushing across three touchdowns, two of them in the first seven minutes of play, to grab a 21 to 0 advantage before New London realized what was happening. The Rams added 21 points in the second period, 13 in the third and 14 more in the final chapter. New London's only scores came late in the last period after Fendrick had shoved in the third stringers.

Harmon put on a one-man show in the opening half with touchdown dashes of 62, 20 and 45 yards and then in the second half tossed three touchdown passes to Wilkins.

Bob Wilkins, who registered the 10th marker after taking a lateral from Joe Miller, also paved the way for the other score when he blocked a New London punt on the losers' 35, where his brother scooped it up and galloped over.

Miller's accurate toe accounted for four extra points, while he added two more on line plunges. Harner and Heikel added the other two on plunges.

The play that started things rolling for the green-uniformed outfit was one of the finest pieces of broken field running turned in this year. After New London worked the ball to midfield and was forced to punt, Harmon after rattling off a 13-yard gain, took the ball on the next play and after sweeping his left end, slashed his way through a host of tacklers to tally standing up.

From then on it was all Madison, and it never let up once. Only three times was the club forced to punt.

Score Against Subs.

The Wildcats' first tally was the result of Kott's 85-yard dash against the subs. He started his jaunt from his own 15 where he received a Madison kickoff. Witzlaben's kick for the point was wide. New London crossed into pay dirt again when Carpenter took a pass from Evans and raced over from the 15.

New London, which played without the services of its star back, Bob Thomas, who suffered a head injury last week, saw another of its players carried off the field in the second half last night. He was Frank Cooke, who also received a head injury when he was tackled after taking a short pass.

Hi-Speeds Face Elks, Canzols Close Sked

THE Mansfield Hi-Speeds and colored Elks will roll down the curtain on their 1938 baseball schedules Sunday with a double-header at Tillman's park.

This bargain bill brings together two of the stronger semi-pro clubs in the city, and it should attract one of the largest crowds of the season.

* * * * *

THE Ira D. Ling Canzols will conclude their championship season Sunday against the Willard Merchants at Liberty park at 2:30 p. m.

The Canzols won the city recreation Senior league and Shaughnessy playoff championships, and compiled one of the best records registered by any Mansfield team this year.

Lefty Theaker or Gil Weigand will toil on the mound for the Canzols, Manager Henry Kyler announced today.

The following players are requested to report at the park at 12:30 p. m Sunday: W. Lockhart, K. Lockhart, Ziegler, J Miller, E. Miller, Smollen, Theaker, Weigand, Au, Small and B. Miller.

Chevrolets, Billiards Clash

The Mohican Chevrolets, defending city sandlot baseball champions, clash with the Rex Billiards in a single game at the Fairground Sunday. The tilt is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m. Potye or Boyer will get the starting assignment for the Mohican outfit, while Moore will probably toe the mound for the Cuemen.

Fred Buzard requests the following players to get in touch with him at once: Gene Yarmon, C. Yarmon, Linto, Atton, Al Boyer, Potye, Bishop, Silsby and H. Boyer.

Tribe Scores Pair of Wins

DETROIT—(U P)—Once again on the winning trail—away from their home park—the Cleveland Indians today sought their third victory of the current Detroit series after whipping the Tigers twice Friday, 8 to 1 and 6 to 5.

Young Bob Feller whose unheralded comeback in late season bolsters the Tribe's 1939 prospects limited Detroit to one run and six hits, struck out 10 and walked only one in the first game. Roy Weatherly supplied the big punch with a double and a triple.

Despite the Indian victory, the second game was featured by Hank Greenberg's two home runs, his 55th and 56th of the season which placed him three games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 1927 pace.

HONOR GOLF CHAMPIONS AT POSSUM RUN TONIGHT

Possum Run club golf champions will be honored Saturday night at the annual "trophy dance" to be held in the clubhouse. Trophies will be presented to the champions at the dance.

Champions recently crowned include Mr. and Mrs. Pete Linster, winners of the men and women club titles; Harry Schlegel, second flight; Burnham, third flight; John Seifert, fourth flight; Mrs. Vera Oberlander, second women's flight, and Miss Bea Platt, third women's flight.

Patty-Estelle Vie In Finals

CHICAGO—(AP)—For the second time within a year, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., meets the redhead from Minneapolis, Patty Berg, in a 36-hole final today for the women's national golf championship. It was the same cast that appeared at Memphis in 1938. At that time, Mrs. Page's meticulous study of golf, after a self-taught four-year course, was rewarded when she won the national championship by defeating Miss Berg, 7 and 6. Today's match was of two rounds of 18 holes each.

Dayton, Denison Display Power In Inaugurals

By JIM EMERSON

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Dayton's Flyers and Denison's Big Red stamped themselves today definitely as strong powers in 1938 Buckeye and Ohio conference championship races as the majority of Ohio colleges inaugurated the new football season Friday night and today.

The Flyers and the Big Red each scored in every quarter last night in impressive power displays as Dayton crushed Wittenberg, 38 to 0, and Denison rolled back Defiance, 34 to 0.

Eddie Marre sparked the Dayton attack with two touchdowns. On the fourth play of the game, Marre dashed 67 yards for the first score to lead a Dayton parade that piled up 13 points in the first period, 12 in the second, seven in the third and six in the fourth. Denison tallied five touchdowns, two in the first period, and one each in the last three quarters. Pettit counted one touchdown and scored three extra points.

Heidelberg rolled up a 32 to 12 victory over undermanned Ashland. Zaler counted three touchdowns for the victors.

Ohio Northern counted an Ohio conference victory over Findlay, 12 to 9, in a thriller. Northern scored all its points in the final period on touchdowns by Keel and Novak. Cindric tallied for Findlay with a place kick in the third quarter and a touchdown in the final period.

Tom Conley's John Carroll team started auspiciously by defeating Detroit Tech, 19 to 0, in Cleveland. Ed Arsenault, speedy halfback, scored the first Carroll touchdown and passed to Ed Willard of Mansfield for a second marker.

Mt. Union defeated Hiram, 7 to 0, in a hard-fought battle. Cabas tallied the lone touchdown in the second quarter.

Whippets Rout Old Rival, 27-0

Bliss Scores Two Touchdowns as Shelby Registers First Victory Over Willard In Nine Years.

SHELBY—Coach Bill Query's Whippets again served notice on their N. C. O. conference rivals last night when they walloped Willard, 27 to 0, in the opening nocturnal game of the season here last night.

Led by Harold Bliss, who hung up a pair of touchdowns, the Whippets scored four touchdowns and a safety to mark up their second straight victory.

Fail to Threaten.

Willard, walloped by Bucyrus last week, did not threaten once. The nearest the Railroaders came to the Shelby goal line was the 30-yard mark, which they reached in the third period.

The first score came after five minutes of play in the opening period. Payne recovered Sands' fumble deep in Willard territory and Bliss scored on a reverse.

Bliss returned a punt 59 yards through a broken field to register the second Shelby touchdown late in the opening period. Terman added the extra point from placement to give the Whippets a 13 to 0 lead going into the second frame.

In the second period, Clark blocked a Willard punt on the visitors' 32. Baker took the ball to the three on the first play and then bucked over for the third touchdown of the first half.

Pass for Score.

Neither team threatened seriously in the third period. In the fourth quarter, Miller passed to Stock from the 25 for another touchdown. The last Shelby points came late in the fourth frame when the Whippets were awarded two points on a safety when G. Jenney punted from outside of the playing field.

The victory was the first for Shelby over Willard in nine years.

Pat Patterson To Face Old Mates Sunday

Dewey Durant's American Legion baseballers will get a taste of their own medicine, so to speak, when they go over to Ontario Sunday afternoon to attempt to halt the Harold Marshall-managed team's 16-game winning streak.

Facing the Legionnaires in this game will be Pitcher Howard Patterson, who once made it miserable for the Durant team's foes.

Patterson hurled for the Legion club the first half of the season, but quit when he contracted a sore arm. He has regained the use of his whip and he is again firing the ball across the plate with old-time trickery. Nearly half of the victories registered by Ontario in the string came with Patterson on the hillock.

KANSAS CITY TAKES LEAD IN A. A. PLAYOFF

ST PAUL, Minn.—(U.P.)—Kansas City was a game ahead today in the final playoff series with St. Paul to decide the American association representative in the little world series with the International league winner. The Kansas City team was a victor from the start last night getting hits where they counted to take an 8 to 3 decision from the Saints.

Reds Reduce Pirates' Lead To Two Games

Cubs Take Pair From Phils to Gain on Leaders.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The baseball hippodrome today offered on stage No. 1—Gabby Hartnett's Chicago Cubs vs. Pie Traynor's Pittsburgh Pirates in the National league finish. On stage No. 2—Hank Greenberg vs. Babe Ruth in the home run derby.

The Cubs cut the Pirates' National league lead to two games yesterday. They beat the Phillies twice, 3-2, and 7-6, coming from behind in both games. The Pirates lost to the Reds, 5-4, in 12 innings.

Greenberg hit homers No. 55 and 56 yesterday in the second game of a doubleheader with Cleveland. He has nine games left in which to hit five circuit clouts and top Ruth's 1927 record of 60.

Greenberg's two homers put him even with Ruth's 1927 record-breaking schedule. Ruth hit his 56th in his 145th game, the same as Greenberg did. It wasn't until game No. 148 that Ruth hit his 57th.

Cincinnati gave the Pirates a setback when Bucky Walters pitched and batted the Reds to a 12-inning triumph. Walters allowed only seven hits and drove in Harry Craft with the winning run.

In the only American league game Cleveland beat Detroit twice, 8-1, and 6-5, and moved within half a game of the second place Red Sox. Bob Feller won his 16th game in the opener, limiting the Tigers to six hits.

ASHLAND HIGH PLAYS TODAY

The Ashland-Norwalk high grid game, scheduled at Norwalk last night, will be played today. A mix-up in the Norwalk schedule forced the postponement.

CLEVELANDER WINS

TOROINTO — Georgie Pace, 119, Cleveland, outpointed Boby Yack, 118¼, Toronto, (10).

Now is the time of year that the fishermen can take a day or two off and go to their favorite lake or stream and be assured of having a good day's sport. In the waters south the lower Owl and as far as Coshocton you will find the Salmon which is a local name for the pike perch striking. One report recently was very good, six strikes in about two hours of casting, and five fish taken. Many of the local fishermen use live bait for these pike, however, the casting rod method is very effective using pork rind lures and fishing the bottom.

AFRAID TO MARRY + + +

By HELEN WELSHIMER

(Copyright, 1938)

READ THIS FIRST:

Judy Rogers, New York heiress, is stunned when Craig Denby the man she loves, tells her on the phone that he has married a girl he met at a weekend house party. Afraid of marriage, Judy reflects she put Craig off once too many times. Then she phones her father's lawyer to learn the details of his financial crash, just announced in the newspapers, and talks with Ronald Birrell, a brilliant young attorney from Tennessee who has just joined the firm.

Now go on with the story.

CHAPTER 2.

"I'm afraid so, Miss Martin. My father wanted Mr. Heaton to explain some of the intricacies of the —the financial upset to me. He's tied up in conferences, you see."

"Just a moment, please."

"Miss Rogers? Mr. Heaton is tied up in court today but he suggested I see you. This is Ronald Birrell. I joined the firm last month, you see. Suppose we make it a luncheon conference if you are free?"

Ronald Birrell—she had heard of him.

"Well, then, the Waldorf at 1?" she asked, naming a familiar lunching place.

She heard a long whistle over the telephone. "Listen, Judy Rogers, we dine at cafeterias, marble-topped restaurants, places you've never been. Lunch with me means Childs'."

If she hadn't been so upset Judy might have laughed. But she had been hurt cruelly a moment before, so she said:

"You're trying to tell me, I suppose, that I should get started in on the automats—now that I'm poor!"

"You're a mind reader I always liked bright young women Well, is it Childs' or not?"

* * *

"I want to hear the fact in the case, and if I have to depend on you for them, I suppose it's Childs'," Judy answered.

"Good! The corned beef hash is excellent and there are those who have great fondness for their chicken croquettes with mashed potatoes."

"And hot butter cakes. I like them."

"Then you have been there!" He sounded almost glad.

"Sometimes for breakfast, after a party. I know their eggs, too."

It was foolish talk, something with which to pass away a few of the moments that stretched in a shadowy strain forever since Craig was gone. Craig—the name turned in her heart like something burning, quivering, beating, pulsing.

Because she wanted to cry, Judy's voice was not laughing now, but thin and cool, the huskiness quite gone, as she promised to meet Ronald Birrell at his offices at 1.

* * *

She would not have minded a subway, as a means of transportation to the office, on any other morning. But today the thought of the tall young man who was hurrying to meet his bride made her legs weak, her stomach hurt, her head ache. She called the butler, asked him to have the town car ready and sat in one corner as the chauffeur threaded his way downtown. She smiled crookedly as she dismissed him. This probably was her last ride in the car. All servants would be leaving within a few days. But that did not matter. The fortune wasn't important. But Craig . . .

"If I only had not been so frightened at marriage, of love ending, he would never have married this other girl. He loved me, he loved me, he loved me!" The words went singing through her heart. Then a sharp contradiction almost interrupted: "But did he? Wasn't it habit? Maybe love doesn't last. You knew it didn't—that's why you refused him before —why be so upset when your theories prove true?"

It was such a hopeless problem that she finally pushed it away. She tried to think of young Ronald Birrell as she went up in the elevator to the well-known law offices where she had gone so many times in former days, to pick up a check, or ask a favor when her father was abroad.

* * *

Miss Martin greeted her. Idly Judy noticed her blue eyes, her hands of honey-colored hair. Pretty. And a little contemptuous of the fallen debutante.

"Mr. Birrell is waiting for you," she said, and led Judy down the deeply-carpeted hall to a half open door.

Judy stepped inside. A tall young man, with wide shoulders, was standing at a window, his back turned to her. His hair was red—such a rebellious, rough, vibrant red that she checked an impulse to laugh. So this was Ronald Birrell, the mountain boy from Tennessee, who had made such a name for himself during his two years of practice in a southern city that the famous law firm had offered him a place on its staff. In that moment before he saw her, she remembered other things about him. He had been a football star, an All-American in fact, at Princeton. Then he had gone back home to begin the career which he was continuing in New York.

He turned His eyes were gray and friendly. His face was lean and tanned The hand that he extended was strong and forceful.

"Judy Rogers," he said, more than asked. "I'm glad you came."

"You didn't think I would?"

"I didn't know I'm glad you decided my way."

"So am I." Judy smiled. Dimples flashed in her cheeks, the brown eyes quivered with small golden lights. The young man glanced at her quizzically. She flushed a little. Silly! Hadn't young men glanced at her that way often?

Across the room she glimpsed herself in a mirror. The yellow frock with its wide brown belt and brief brown jacket was stunning enough So were the accessories, carefully assembled. She noted that Ronald Birrell's suit was a good tweed, in excellent taste. She wondered why she had expected that it wouldn't be

He took her into a quiet restaurant near the office.

"But this wasn't in your promise," Judy exclaimed.

"I decided we needed a corner where we could talk. We've a lot to say to each other. First, let's order."

"You have a lot to say to me," Judy corrected. "I'd like tomato juice, an omelette and dry toast"

He shook his head. "No go. For the ordeals ahead of you, young lady, you should have a beef stew, with lots of vegetables. But —well, this time you may have the omelette."

* * *

This time. . . . It was sheer idiocy to be glad he had said the two words which projected their acquaintanceship into the future, she told herself. She was, though. Being an honest person, she admitted the fact.

He leaned back in his chair. "We could have made it the Ritz or the St. Regis, or Twenty-One—not on my expense account, either —but I thought you should grow accustomed to the lesser eating places."

"Thoughtful of you, Mr. Birrell. Know any nice lunch counters?"

"Dozens of them. I'll initiate you."

"Thanks But I won't be here."

"Going away?"

She wondered if the concern in his eyes could be real.

"In a day or two My father and stepmother are busy, and I'm in the way. My mother's in France and it's time to join her, anyway. She'll be cabling me a ticket and—" she shrugged. No reason to tell this straight-forward young man that she wanted the width of the ocean between her and a tall boy, with light hair and blue eyes; who had married another girl last night.

"Running away, eh?"

"Yes" Let him think what he would "Call it that, if you wish."

"You look brave—and sturdy."

"I can't face it just yet," she said, and referred to something about which he knew nothing at all.

"I might have known," he murmured. "Hot house plants can't. I hoped you were different."

"Why?"

"I made up my mind to like you, when I first joined the firm. You were not approachable then. Now you are. And you turn out to be a disappointment."

"Anyway, now that you know, you can recover."

"I think you're worth saving."

"Nice of you."

"Not at all. You're most attractive—don't blush, it isn't news to you—you have an excellent mind, no doubt, if you polished it up, and you have a chance to make good. In what are you interested?"

"I like to design clothes," she heard her voice answering. "I always thought, if I had to earn my own living, I'd try to get in a shop or studio." It was strange that she should tell this to the boy across the table.

"Good! Then we must find you an opening."

"No, you must not find me an opening. I'm going away. To Paris, a city in a country across an ocean."

"Oh, yes, Paris. We'll skip that. You can go when you're famous. Maybe have a showing over there."

"I'm going now. Tomorrow. Day after. Whenever a boat sails."

* * *

It was an absurd thing to quarrel with a young man whom she had just met. It was ridiculous to grow upset over his criticism. These things Judy told herself. But she heard her voice answering more and more defiantly. At last, she said:

"Why should I care what you think?"

"Maybe you shouldn't—but you do," he answered, and smiled at her so merrily that she laughed.

Then he sobered: "You may do as you please, Judy Rogers. I was mistaken about you. Now we'll talk about the business matters for which you came. Then you catch your boat, and I'll see you in the rotogravures now and then."

Judy leaned across the narrow table, cheeks blazing with furious color.

THEATER

Teamed Again.

Teaming Myrna Loy and Clark Gable again, the Ohio presents "Too Hot to Handle," a moving drama of a news photographer and a girl flyer, tonight at 11:30, in the regular midnight matinee. The show will run through Wednesday.

* * *

Valley of Giants.

The fact that "Valley of the Giants" is a technicolor production starring Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor adds a touch of beauty to the commonplace theme of a wealthy lumber pirate who tries to defraud California homesteaders of their trees. The picture will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Madison. The new serial is "The Fighting Devil Dogs."

* * *

Double Header.

For the double feature show at the Majestic Sunday and Monday, Marian Marsh, Eric Blore, Andrew Tombes and Margaret Tallichet will appear in "A Desperate Adventure." The second picture is "Ladies in Distress," featuring Robert Livingston and Virginia Grey, with Alison Skipworth and Polly Moran.

* * *

Ritz Closes for Remodeling.

The Ritz theater will close this week-end for an indefinite period, it was announced today by Sol Bernstein, manager. The picture house will be enlarged and renovated during the next few weeks.

* * *

Barefoot Boy.

"Barefoot Boy" and "Lady Luck" are the two features to be presented Sunday through Wednesday on the double bill of the new Park theater. The first movie stars Jackie Moran in a story that glorifies the American boy.

VOTES TUESDAY

Willard to Ballot on $72,000 Bond Issue for Sewage Job.

WILLARD—Completion of Willard's $130,000 sewer system will depend on the outcome of a special election here Tuesday when voters will ballot on a $72,000 bond issue to provide Willard's share of the WPA project.

Started several months ago, work on the project in the eastern part of the city has been completed. Estimates on the total cost were too low, however, and funds were consumed before all of the work was done.

The sewage lines and disposal plant job was divided into five projects. The bond issue would provide funds for the disposal plant and the main line sewer to the plant.

the German occupation will take place progressively, to be followed by solution of the Polish and Hungarian minority problems. Premier Mussolini will continue to exert strong pressure upon Prague until Poland and Hungary are satisfied, with Hitler offering moral support.

Should the Czechs offer resistance, however, there is no doubt that Germany will embark upon an armed campaign to wipe the state out of existence. It is anticipated here that the moment the Czechs offer to fight, the Poles and Hungarians will plunge in to seize their own districts.

Arms Rush On.

But throughout Europe, fear that the Czechs would resist, and that if Germany marched the entire continent would be plunged into conflict, was widespread, and there was a rush everywhere to mobolize armed strength.

The Czechs themselves led the parade, though other countries were not far behind.

From Prague at noon today (Mansfield time) came word that mobilization of 1,500,000 soldiers had been completed.

"The general position is orderly," a spokesman said. "There have been only a few frontier incidents of a minor nature."

The French embassy stated it had been in telephonic communication with Prague. The mobilization proceeded satisfactorily and in perfect order, it was said

Nearly two million men between the ages of 18 and 40 had taken up arms to defend their country in response to a general mobilization order

In Prague and in every town and village the streets were crowded with citizens awaiting more news of the crisis, bidding soldiers good-bye and watching the excitement.

Every available vehicle, automobiles, trucks, taxis, carts and horse-drawn wagons, was requisitioned to take the recruits from the over-flowing recruiting stations to military barracks.

Weeping women shouted "Long Live Czechoslovakia!" as they kissed husbands, brothers, sons and sweethearts good-bye.

Broadcast Mobilization Call.

The mobilization decree was enacted by the cabinet and issued by President Eduard Benes and Premier General Jan. Syrovy. Reportedly adopted at the suggestion of Britain, France and Russia, it then was broadcast throughout the republic

The government radio announcer ended the proclamation with these words:

"Citizens, the decisive moment has arrived Success depends on every citizen placing his or her whole strength in the service of the motherland.

"Be brave and faithful. Our fight is a fight for justice and freedom."

From Invergordon, in Scotland, the British home fleet, which had been scheduled to remain there until Oct. 17, suddenly sailed today for an "unknown destination."

The British admiralty, confirming the departure of the fleet, declined to discuss its significance.

Ships of the home fleet took aboard full supplies of oil and provisions. Large crowds lined the shore to watch their departure.

In France, four hundred thousand men were called to the colors today as Premier Edouard Daladier's government ordered a "partial" mobilization

By tomorrow night, however, according to a reliable source, the number of troops under arms will number 2,000,000

The men ordered to arms so far have been selected from recent military classes. They will complete the forces necessary for protection of French frontiers should France, now openly committed to fight Germany if Chancellor Hitler's legions invade Czechoslovakia be forced into a conflict.

It was announced that measures similar to those taken by the army were being taken by the French navy.

Use of long distance teelphones and telegraph was banned by the French government today. All facilities were reserved for official communications.

The Belgian government at Brussels also ordered partial mobilization today.

An order was issued calling up military and technical units of the army, also the 1937 class of the artillery regiment.

A government communique said:

"On account of the evolution of the international crisis and the dispositions taken in several countries, the government has decided to reinforce the protection of its territory.

"With this aim, it has proceeded to call up all military effectives belonging to the specialized units entrusted with certain technical works. It also called up the militia from the 1937 class of the artillery regiment.

"In all army corps, the necessary security measures have been taken."

At Budapest, in Hungary, Hungarian army maneuvers which were scheduled to close today were prolonged indefinitely.

From The Hague, came word that Dutch troops have been ordered to end their present army maneuvers and all troops have been returned to their garrisons with week-end leaves suspended.

The government said no further precautions will be taken for the present. It was emphasized that the government believes recent measures to reinforce the frontiers will be sufficient.

Even as Prime Minister Chamberlain reached London today, it became known that Britain had taken steps for instant mobilization of all armed forces by land, sea and air if the need arises.

Barracks were being filled with rifles and uniforms ready for reservists.

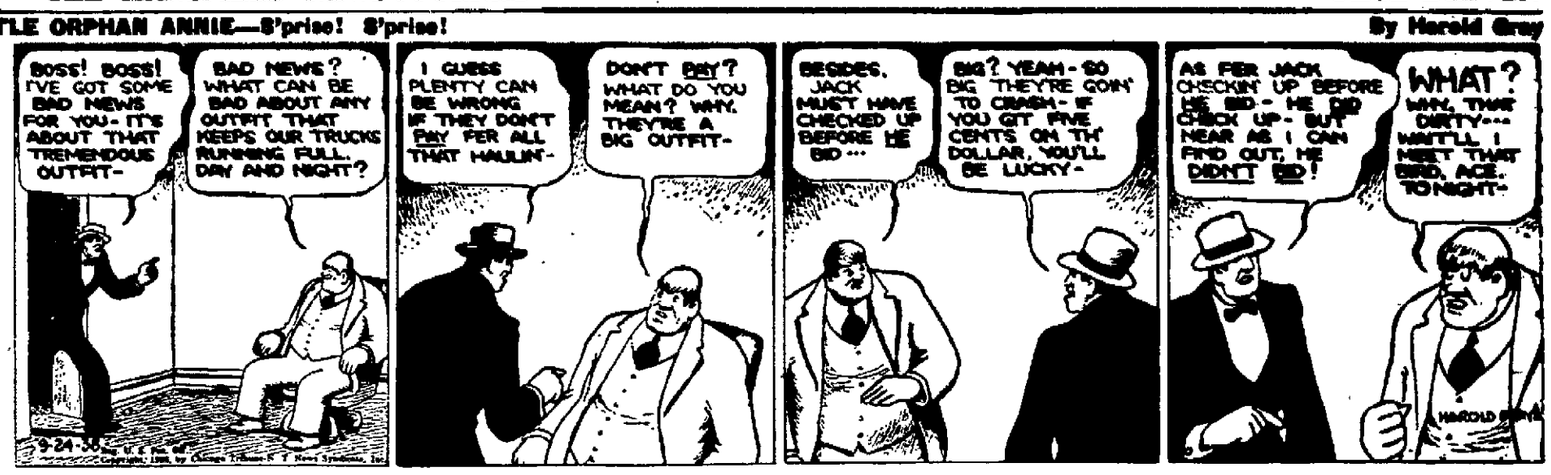
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—S'prise! S'prise! By Harold Gray



BOSS! BOSS! I'VE GOT SOME BAD NEWS FOR YOU - IT'S ABOUT THAT TREMENDOUS OUTFIT -
BAD NEWS? WHAT CAN BE BAD ABOUT ANY OUTFIT THAT KEEPS OUR TRUCKS RUNNING FULL, DAY AND NIGHT?
I GUESS PLENTY CAN BE WRONG IF THEY DON'T PAY FER ALL THAT HAULIN' -
DON'T PAY? WHAT DO YOU MEAN? WHY, THEY'RE A BIG OUTFIT -
BESIDES, JACK MUST HAVE CHECKED UP BEFORE HE BID ...
BIG? YEAH - SO BIG THEY'RE GOIN' TO CRASH - IF YOU GIT FIVE CENTS ON TH' DOLLAR, YOU'LL BE LUCKY -
AS FER JACK CHECKIN' UP BEFORE HE BID - HE DID CHECK UP - BUT NEAR AS I CAN FIND OUT, HE DIDN'T BID!
WHAT? WHY, THAT DIRTY--- WAIT'LL I MEET THAT BID. ACE. TONIGHT -

PAM—Meditations! By A. W. Brewerton

KEITH PAIGE! — REALLY I SHOULD FEEL VERY MUCH FLATTERED, THAT A MAN OF HIS PROMINENCE SHOULD BE INTERESTED IN ME — WANT TO COME SEE ME, AND I DO!
HE'S A LOT OLDER THAN I — WHY, I GUESS HE'S TWICE MY AGE — BUT HE'S VERY ATTRACTIVE, EVER SO — YOUNG IN HIS WAYS, I SUPPOSE! — I REMEMBER NOW WHEN I FIRST MET HIM — HE SEEMED TO LIKE ME RIGHT AWAY — WAS VERY NICE AND ATTENTIVE ...
9-24
(Copyright, 1938, by A. W. Brewerton) (Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Office)
BUT I HAD NO IDEA ANYTHING LIKE THIS WOULD EVER HAPPEN — THOUGHT HE WAS JUST TRYING TO BE KIND TO A LITTLE GIRL! — I — I WONDER WHAT DAVID WOULD THINK OF MY SEEING HIM? — OH, WELL, I GUESS IT'S ONLY A PASSING FANCY — WON'T LAST LONG!
BUT TO THINK HE WAS THE ONE WHO SENT ALL THE FLOWERS AND CANDY AND THEATER TICKETS! — I CAN HARDLY REALIZE IT YET, THAT HE — A MAN WORTH MILLIONS — CAN BE THAT INTERESTED IN ME!

BRICK BRADFORD—In the Fortress of Fear. By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

I ASKED KALIFF TO COME TO MY QUARTERS SO I COULD GET RID OF HIM — SORRY GALE NEEDS HIS SEAT IN THE PLANE — HERE HE COMES!

MICKEY MOUSE—Striking Lightning Favors Piper. By Walt Disney

THE SAME NIGHT THAT MR. PIPER FINISHES HIS WORK IN THE PAUNCH HOUSE, THE PLACE IS ROBBED OF VALUABLE BONDS AND JEWELRY!
FIRST, MRS. VAN DOUGH WAS ROBBED. AND NOW, THIS!
TERRIBLE! MAKES ME LOOK LIKE A JINX ON MY CLIENTS!
I S'POSE YOU CAN'T TELL US ANYTHING ABOUT THIS, PIPER?
NOPE! SORRY! I WAS WORKING ON THE KITCHEN SINK ALL EVENING! MR. PAUNCH INSISTED ON WATCHING ME TO SEE THAT I DID THE WORK TO SUIT HIM!
YEAH, PAUNCH ALREADY TOLD US THAT! BUT IT'S MIGHTY QUEER HOW TWO CASES LIKE THIS COULD HAPPEN!

TAILSPIN TOMMY—Skeeter Isn't "Foolin' "! By Hal Forrest

BELIEVING THAT HIS PAL, TOMMY, HAS BEEN KILLED BY THE TWO GUNMEN IN THE OLD HOUSE, SKEETER PUSHES JERRY TO SAFETY, AND GRIMLY WAITS FOR THE ARMED MEN AT THE BOTTOM OF THE STAIRWAY, THE PISTOL WHICH HE HAS TAKEN FROM THE CAPTIVE THUG HELD TIGHTLY IN HIS HAND.. TRAINED UP THE STAIRWAY!
IT'S HORSEFACE HARRY! SOMETHIN'S HAPPENED TO 'IM!.. UH.. W-WHA..
LOOK OUT! ..I SEE A..
YOU ASKED FOR IT, YOU DIRTY KILLER!
HOLD IT! OR YOU'LL GET WHAT YOUR BROTHER RAT JUST GOT!

STOCKS TUMBLE AS CZECH WAR FEARS INCREASE

Losses Run to More Than Two Points in Leading Issues in Nervous Mart.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK—(AP)—The stock market recovered quickly today from another fit of nerves over the tension in Europe. Losses of $1 to $3 a share in earlier trading were largely cancelled, and a few shares rose above yesterday's final prices.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Intensified war preparations in Europe tumbled stocks for losses running to more than 2 points in leading issues in a nervous market opening today.

United States Steel on an initial block of 4,000 shares was down 2¼ at 52. On a similar block General Motors was off 2¼ at 41.

A point or more down were Montgomery Ward, Pennsylvania, Western Union, Goodyear, American Smelting, New York Central and Electric Auto Lite.

While Wall Street paid attention to little else than the European situation, business analysts noted the summer industrial upturn had lifted the railroads out of the depths of an earnings slump.

Hopes for expansion in automobile production were lifted by reports field stocks of automobiles were near the vanishing point, stimulating dealer demand for cars.

At the start of foreign exchange dealings here the British pound was down 1¼ cents at $4.78⅛. The French franc was 2.67⅞ cents, off 11-16 of a cent.

OKAY $68,000 ROAD PROGRAM

Commissioners Ask PWA for $30,600 to Help Finance Proposed Project.

Richland county commissioners today had approved County Engineer Howard C. Sword's draft of a proposed $68,000 PWA road improvement program and authorized P. S. Carroll, clerk of the board of commissioners, to request a PWA grant for approximately $30,600 to help finance the project.

The engineer said the plans call for resurfacing with "blacktop" of 91 miles of the county's secondary roads at a cost of about $37,000 to the county.

If approved, the work would not get under way until next spring, he added.

The project would be independent of any WPA road work sponsored by the county and was drafted at the suggestion of the Ohio Better Roads association to give contractors a chance to bid on government road projects.

The association pointed out to county officials that contractors are excluded from WPA projects which are in charge of government employes and the county engineer. Private contractors are permitted to bid on PWA jobs, but they must hire most of their men through the Mansfield office of the National Re-employment bureau.

DENIES MOTION

Judge at Bucyrus Rules Out Motion in Tiro Ouster.

BUCYRUS—After overruling a motion, filed early Friday asking for removal of the names of 46 signers to the petition asking ouster of four members of the Tiro school board, court was dismissed for the day by Judge Phil Weiland of Mt. Gilead.

The entire day Friday was spent in calling signers of the motion to the witness stand. Twenty of the 46 signers were called upon to testify before Judge Weiland overruled the motion.

Most of the signers of the motion testified that they had signed the motion because they did not wish to be called as witnesses in the case which asks removal of school board members J. W. Lake, J. W. Hanna, Homer Wilford, and James Wiley, charging misfeasance, nonfeasance and malfeasance and misconduct in office. Seventy-six plaintiffs representing residents of the school district filed the original action.

The case will go on trial on its merits today.

RUSH PLANS TO MEET DEADLINE

SHELBY—City officials today were rushing plans for Shelby's $50,000 subway for the Smiley avenue crossing of the Big Four railroad in preparation for filing the project with PWA officials in Columbus.

If the project is not filed by Oct. 1, the deadline for PWA projects, PWA officials told city officials Friday that the project would not be considered. Officials present at the conference Friday with PWA officials in Columbus were Mayor D. B. Young, Supt. J. P. Adkins of the municipal utilities and Councilman Kenneth Rothlisberger, staunch supporter of the subway proposal.

WINS HONORS

PERRYSVILLE — A delegation of young people from the Perrysville Baptist church was awarded the achievement pennant during the convention of the Mansfield Baptist association held at Bucyrus recently.

Included in the group which carried off the honors were Hugh and Lincoln Palmer, Kenneth Glasgo, Russell Kelser, Jimmie and Eileen Smith, Bernice and Dorothy Britton, Lois Zody, Phyllis Duffy, and Marion Bih.

A large delegation of Perrysville Baptists attended the convention at Bucyrus.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Mansfield Pastor and Attorney on Lucas Program.

LUCAS—Guest speakers at the Lucas Lutheran homecoming to be held Sunday in St. Paul's Lutheran church here will be Rev. Herman L. Gilbert and Atty. John F. Kramer, both of Mansfield, according to Rev. Carl Driscoll, local pastor.

Atty. Kramer will address a group of combined adult Sunday school classes during the early service scheduled for 9:30.

Rev. Gilbert, a former pastor of the Lucas parish, will deliver the sermon during the church service at 11 a. m.

A picnic dinner in the church parlors will feature the noon hour. A brief program will be presented during the afternoon.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Hermits Convene—The weekly dinner meeting of the Hermit club is set for 6:30 p. m. Monday at the Y. M. C. A.

Hold Rehearsal—A special rehearsal of the accordion band from Smart's studio will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at the studio.

Committee Meeting—A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. membership committee will be held at 11:45 a. m. Monday at the Westinghouse cafeteria, to plan for the annual membership drive.

Injured In Fall — Miss Ladora Abbott, 18, of 28 Cedar street, 12-A student at Senior high school, was confined to her home today with a torn ligament and bruises to her left leg, suffered yesterday noon in a fall down a stairway at the school.

Son Born—A son was born Friday in Pittsburgh to Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, according to word received here by Mrs. Bell's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Croft, 432 Louise avenue. Mrs. Bell was the former Miss Margaret Williams of Mansfield.

Draws $50 Fine—George Cushing, 22, of West Fourth street road, arraigned in municipal court today on a charge of indecent exposure, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. Unable to pay he was taken to the county jail. Cushing, a bridegroom of only six months, was arrested on Ausdale avenue yesterday by police on complaint of two women.

CHURCH TO RULE ON BIDS MONDAY

SHELBY—A bid for the construction of the $30,000 addition to the First Lutheran church in this city is expected to be accepted by its church council at a special session called for Monday at the church, church officials disclosed today.

Bids were received earlier this month for the construction of the three-story brick addition, church officials pointed out, but no bid had been accepted as yet as the lowest bid was about $2,000 over the engineer's estimates.

MAYOR SIGNS RATE ORDINANCE

SHELBY—Mayor D. B. Young today had signed the ordinance giving the Ohio Fuel Gas company a three-year rate contract setting virtually the same rates as those in the expired contract. City council had approved the ordinance this week by a 4 to 1 vote following a seven-month controversy.

The gas company has a 30-day period in which to accept the contract. If the rate is rejected by the gas company, the company has 60 days to file with the utilities commission at Columbus for a new rate schedule.

PLAN MEETING

PERRYSVILLE — The first meeting of the Tillman-Kelley Music club will be held next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Doris Humphrey.

Mrs. G. B. Fuller of Loudonville will be guest speaker, while the program will be under the direction of Miss Mary O. Eddy, a guest director, who will be assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Mann, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Smith, and Mrs. Hazel Jackson, Misses Leown Walton and Pauline Darling, and Wayne Wilson and Ernest Beavers.

Mrs. Charlotte Mohr will assist Mrs. Humphrey as hostess.

FORMER GALION TEACHER DIES

Mrs. Belle Ridgway Hellyer, Stricken in Arizona, Leaves Four Children.

GALION—Word has just been received here of the death of Mrs. Belle Ridgway Hellyer, former well known resident of Galion, who died Sept. 16 at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sydney B. Brown in Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Hellyer, with her late husband, had made her home in Oberlin for a number of years, had spent the past winter with her brother, Erman J. Ridgway in Los Angeles, Calif., before going to Tucson to be with her sister.

Born in southern Ohio, she moved to Galion with her father, Dr. N. B. Ridgway. She was graduated from Galion high school in 1883, and from Ohio Wesleyan university. She was a teacher in the Galion schools before her marriage.

Funeral services were held in Tucson, followed by cremation in Phoenix. Burial will be made in East Liverpool.

Three daughters and a son survive.

RITES SUNDAY

Funeral for Mrs. Mary Hoyer to Be Held at Nashville.

MILLERSBURG—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Hoyer, widow of Daniel Hoyer, will be held at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Walter Brown, Nashville, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Rev. R. M. Wolford, pastor of Shreve Christian church, will officiate and burial will be made in the Nashville cemetery.

Mrs. Hoyer died at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Brown from complications following a long illness. Born at Gettysburg, Pa., March 7, 1857, she came to this county a number of years ago. She was married to Daniel Boyles in 1878 and he died in 1913. Mrs. Hoyer married Daniel Hoyer in 1919 and he died in 1935.

Two daughters survive, the one at whose home she died and Mrs. Elbert Speker of Mansfield, 12 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren; a brother, G. G. LeFevre of Chicago; a sister, Mrs. Belle Wilson of Boulder, Colorado. Mrs. Hoyer was a member of the Nashville Church of Christ.

ASHLAND FAIR CLOSES TONIGHT WITH PAGEANT

Hundreds Visit Grounds on School Day; Exhibits Hit Record Number.

ASHLAND—Hundreds of children, dismissed from school at noon, took advantage of the opportunity to attend the Ashland County fair Friday afternoon.

Horse races, a husband calling contest and a show by Pop-Eye and his troupe were features of the afternoon. Uncle Rube and his funny auto and the World's Oldest Strong Man, W. H. Russell, 60, who was formerly with Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey circus, assited by his daughter, Eleanor, 14, and son, Frank, 22, received their share of applause. Music during the afternoon and evening was played by the Loudonville High school band.

See Stock Parade.

The main events of the evening program were a stock parade on the race track and an amateur program. Judging of team hitch preceded the amateur program.

Down the midway were side shows of all kinds, games of skill and rifle ranges for the amusement of the fair-goers. During the afternoon and evening, the boys and girls kept the seats of the merry-go-round, the Ferris wheel and other rides filled to capacity.

Exhibits of all types entered in this year's fair are larger than in former years. Judging of entries had not been completed late Friday afternoon.

On Saturday evening a pageant, "America's Rural Fraternity," will be a highlight of the concluding program of the fair at the coliseum.

HELD TO COURT

SHELBY—Charged with driving while intoxicated, Ray Haines of this city today awaited appearance before Mayor D. B. Young's court. Haines was arrested early this morning by Patrolmen Ralph Benedict and William Ewalt after it had been reported he was in a fight on Main street. Haines left before police arrived but was arrested while driving his car.

NAMED CHEERLEADERS

GALION—Cheerleaders for Galion High school were selected this week by tryouts. Betty Post and Kathryn Powers are veteran leaders, and four new cheerleaders chosen are: Jean Badgley, June Dougherty, Bob Kersh and Robert Burden.

A Farmer's Diary

Little Turkeys.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

SEVERAL weeks ago the children's grandmother brought them a mother turkey and twenty-five young ones. For several days the family roamed about the place. We tried to keep a watchful eye for fear she might lead them into the thickets, where some coon or mink or savage, pouncing weasel would devour them.

Then, one night, we could not find her. We called, to no avail. She reappeared, next morning, with two members of her family gone. On two more evenings she hid, and hovered her little ones in the quiet natural manner of wild birds, along an old rail fence...but always with the loss of one or more of her family.

So the hired man got busy. He made a home of boards, with a tight floor and a screened front. We hobbled the mother, lest she stray too far, and moved the family, at night, into the new home.

On her slow rounds of the back yard, the mother stops, stretches her neck and body high, and remains motionless for thirty seconds. Then, sure that all is well, she moves ahead, with a low call that brings the youngsters on the run with widespread wings.

If the sun is hot, she puts them for a nap in the shade of the alders or the rosebush. Some wallow dustily in the drive. When the sun is low she comes close to her home, spreads her wings wide, and her little ones—sixteen of them now—creep sleepily beneath, uttering their little restful notes. Looking closer beneath the warm protecting wings, I see numbers of pinkish, scaly legs, like props supporting a roof above.

Soon this brood will grow beyond the need of maternal shelter and seek high branches of trees to roost upon. Already I have seen them looking avidly at the tempting cross beams of the wind pump derrick.

We hope, when Thanksgiving comes, we may have a tender, plump young bird to grace our boards and some left for a larger flock next year.

U.S. Takes Steps to Evacuate Americans From Hungary

TRAIN READY TO LEAVE FOR ITALY'S COAST

Legation Advises Immediate Departure as War Fears Continue to Grow.

(By Associated Press)

BUDAPEST—The American legation in Budapest had a train ready today to evacuate United States citizens in an emergency.

The British legation made similar preparations.

The American train was ready to leave immediately for the coast. (Trieste, Italy, on the Adriatic sea is the nearest port.)

The legation advised all American citizens in Hungary to leave immediately if they could manage to do so.

The Hungarian-Czehoslovak border was closed. Czechoslovakia and Hungary rushed military preparations in the frontier area.

Communication Severed.

It became certain at noon that there was no communication with Czechoslovakia. The frontier, even on the Hungarian side, was sealed.

Farmers living near the frontier were barred from working in their fields.

Hungarians were told that no letters or telegrams could be sent to Czechoslovakia for the moment. Highway and telephone communications was discontinued earlier today.

The Czechoslovak army moved strong reinforcements into position at the border. Reports reaching Budapest said that at sunrise the entire frontier appeared to be a solid wall of barbed wire, steel and concrete.

The foreign office, in a statement issued 12 hours after Czechoslovakia mobilized her army, declared:

The Hungarian government has not been frightened by Czechoslovak mobilization and will keep up its minority demands on Czechoslovakia."

Posters informed the public in Budapest that air defense manœuvers would take place later today and tonight and that those not complying with regulations would be fined. Police, like last night during a black out of the city, will be armed with rifles.

Boy, 3, Unhurt In Fall, Not So Lucky With Hornet Nest

LOUDONVILLE—Keith Muse, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Muse, who suffered only minor bruises recently when he fell 16 feet from a second story window, wasn't so fortunate in an encounter with a nest of hornets.

Stung over most of his body by the angry insects, the child was recovering today at the home of his parents. His face, neck and arms were badly swollen from the poison of the stings and there were welts on his body where the bees stung through his clothing.

Young Keith was attacked when he pulled an old coat from a nail in the barn, angering the hornets which had built nests in the pockets of the garments.

His mother and grandmother rolled the boy in thick grass to get the yellow jackets off his body.

MRS. PADLEWSKI STRICKEN AT 76

Resident of City for 53 Years Dies At General Hospital.

Mrs. Michaelena Padlewski, 76, of 615 Longview avenue, died in the General hospital Friday after a lingering illness. A resident of Mansfield 53 years, Mrs. Padlewski was born in Germany, Sept. 1, 1862.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Helen Thompson of Pittsburgh, Mrs. John Rachel of Mansfield, Mrs. Charles Sedor of Youngstown and Mrs. Fred R. Sedor of New Bedford, Pa.; two sons, Frank and Joseph at home; a sister, Mrs. Josephine Werznack of Mansfield, and five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at the Geiger funeral home at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday with burial in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery. The body will remain at the funeral home until Monday morning when it will be removed to the residence.

DIES ON VISIT TO KIN'S HOME

S. A. Blaine, 57, Former Chef, Victim of Heart Attack.

Solomon Arthur Blaine, 57, of 173 East Second street, died unexpectedly at the home of his brother, Edward J. Blaine, near New London, Friday afternoon of a heart attack shortly after he arrived for a visit.

Mr. Blaine was born in Sandusky, May 18, 1881, and resided in this city 35 years. He formerly was employed as chef at the Southern hotel and Elks grill.

The survivors include his wife, Theodora; two brothers, Archie of Pittsburgh and Edward, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Edmundson of Fostoria.

The body was removed to the Geiger funeral home where services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday with Rev. M. L. Gordon officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Serino Takes Stand to Deny Conn Murder

Up and Down THE STREET

Just in time for today's big game with Massillon were the new uniforms for Mansfield high school's three cheerleaders, Gene Lantz, Eugene Gump, and Glendale Uhlich. They were decked out in red jersey sweaters that bore a white block 'M' with a megaphone and tiger as the background, white trousers and a red beret.

R. E. (Westinghouse) Imhoff knows now what the thrill of a hole-in-one is like. He didn't score an ace, but it would be harder to come any closer than he did yesterday at Ashland Country club. On the long seventh, Imhoff had a long drive, but "fluffed" his second shot. Drastic measures seemed in order, because his opponents had fired good second shots. Out came Imhoff's trusty No. 3 iron, and he swung it. The shot looked good as it left the club head, apparently certain to make the green, 180 yards away. The ball landed on the apron, rolled over the green and—dropped with a cheerful little "plunk" right into the cup for a birdie and a victory on the hole.

One of the hobbies to be featured in a Mansfield store window next week in connection with Fall Display week and one that has created more than local interest is a design of the famed Rheims cathedral made out of several thousand pieces of wood carved by Mac Esto, 232 West Sixth street. The model is an exact replica of the historic French church.

When a loud explosion shook a Walnut street restaurant this morning, leaving a cloud of blue smoke at the front of the room, more than a dozen breakfast customers thought they were at the scene of a murder or suicide. Recovering from the scare, they found a practical joker had thrown a large firecracker into the room to explode under a table.

Miss Margaret Tinsley, history teacher at Senior high school, with the assistance of her students, has launched a search for an encyclopedia and a dictionary to be used for research work in her classes. Mansfielders having either of the books and willing to donate them to the history classes are asked to contact Miss Tinsley at the high school.

2 FALL TO DEATH

Famed Researcher, Wife Die in Plunge From N. Y. Hotel.

NEW YORK—(UP)—Dr. Raemer Rex Renshaw, nationally famous specialist in organic chemistry, who had been experimenting with a drug that could be loaded into artillery shells, and so powerful that one grain of it could paralyze 1,000,000 soldiers, plunged to death with his wife from their 19th floor apartment today.

Spectators said both struck the ground at the same time and police believed they had jumped hand in hand. Mrs. Renshaw was naked. Her husband was fully clothed. It was believed possible that one of them might have fallen or jumped and the other had fallen accidentally while trying to seize the first.

They left no notes in the apartment and none of the doctor's friends or colleagues could suggest a reason for his suicide.

WATCH CHANGE IN RADIO TIME

Daylight Savings Ends, Program Schedules Are Changed Sunday.

Mansfield radio fans will find their favorite programs being broadcast an hour later beginning tomorrow as the eastern part of the United States switches back to Eastern Standard time.

Daylight saving time for 1938 ends at 1 a. m. tomorrow, (EST) and clocks in 17 states will go back one hour. To conform with the change, the three major networks will switch programs around and move back to standard time after five months under the summer schedule.

About 30,000,000 persons in 17 states have been under the "saving" system this summer, most of them in New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware.

DEATH TAKES EX-DRUGGIST

E. H. Lindsey, Prominent in Masonic Circles, Dies at Age 84.

Elmore Hill Lindsey, 84, of 306 West Third street, a retired Mansfield druggist, died at his home Friday after a lingering illness.

Mr. Lindsey and his late brother, Eugene, operated a drug store on North Main street for 30 years. He later served as general agent for the National Masonic Provident association and was active in fraternal organization work until failing health forced him to retire.

A past noble grand of Mansfield lodge, 19, I. O. O. F., Mr. Lindsey received a 50-year membership award three years ago. He was a member of all Masonic bodies and was a past officer of nearly each lodge.

Mr. Lindsey, a native of Marion, came to this city 70 years ago. The survivors include his wife, a son, Dr. Albert E. Lindsey of Cleveland, and two grandchildren, David and Jane Lindsey of Cleveland.

Funeral services will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday in charge of Rev. Hayes M. Braker of the Park Avenue Baptist church. The body will be placed in the mausoleum at Mansfield cemetery.

W. H. G. Kegg, Richard S. Barr, John H. Bristor, J. Leo Hartman, James M. Ottinger and Walter Goodenough will serve as pallbearers. The Scottish Rite ring ceremony will be conducted by John Weil.

BURNED TO DEATH

WON'T BE BOUND BY BERRODIN'S PENSION PLANS, BEVENS SAYS

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS O.—Wray Bevens, newly-appointed chief of the Ohio Aid for the Aged division, indicated today that he would not consider himself bound by any plans of his predecessor, Henry J. Berrodin, for reorganization of the division in compliance with orders of the Federal Social Security board.

Bevens said he would make no statement of his policies until he has "had time to study the department's operations for a week or two."

Berrodin was dismissed yesterday by State Welfare Director Margaret Allman, presumably because he went over Governor Davey's head and capitulated to "clean up" demands of the Federal board. The Governor has dared the board to cut off Federal Old Age pensions funds from Ohio and has accused A. J. Altmeyer, board chairman, of playing "dirty politics."

However, Berrodin was revealed to have corresponded with the board, promising to institute reforms in the state division.

Bevens since January, 1937, has been attached to the governor's secretarial staff, in charge of pardon and clemency matters. He formerly was Adams county old age pension administrator.

He is 31, and was graduated from Ohio State University law school in 1932. He managed Pike county Democratic headquarters during the 1932 campaign. Later he served two years as assistant Pike county prosecutor.

The social security board will meet in Washington Tuesday to discuss the Ohio pension system further. The board has charged that the state division was mismanaged and used for political purposes.

ATTACK FATAL

Bucyrus Business Man Falls Dead in Dentist's Office.

BUCYRUS—Clarence Royer, 58, prominent Bucyrus business man, died Friday afternoon in a dentist's office, victim of a heart attack shortly after having a tooth extracted. He had been in ill health for the past several months.

Born in Massillon, June 27, 1880, Mr. Royer came to Bucyrus 31 years ago. He was co-proprietor of the Baumoel dry good store, a member of the Elks lodge, K. of C., Bucyrus Rotary club, and Holy Trinity Catholic church.

Surviving are his wife, Ida; a daughter, Mrs. Floyd Yeager of Marion; his mother, Mrs. Mary Royer of Cleveland, and a brother, Joseph M. Royer of Bucyrus.

Funeral servicves will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at Holy Trinity Catholic church with Rev. Leo Reinartz, pastor of the church, officiating. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery. The body was removed to the home.

DIES NEAR BELLVILLE

BELLVILLE — Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at Clarks Chapel near Athens, O. for Joseph Watson Carsey, 78, who died at the home of his son, Angus Carsey, six miles east of Bellville, after a short illness. The body will be removed from George funeral home in Butler to the son's residence Sunday afternoon.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

WITNESS SAYS ACCUSED DROVE 'DEATH' AUTO

Testimony of State's Chief Witness Described as False in Defense Examination.

BULLETIN

CADIZ—(UP)—The defense for Peter Serino, 22, of Pittsburgh, on trial for the murder of Ohio Highway Patrolman George Conn, rested in a surprise move shortly before noon today after presenting only Serino and two other witnesses.

(By Associated Press)

CADIZ—Peter Serino, 22, was called to the stand today at his first degree murder trial to deny that he was the "death car" driver in the slaying of State Highway Patrolman George Conn.

State witness Charles Ford, 20-year-old colored Pittsburgher, testified his fellow townsman fired upon the young patrolman Sept. 27, 1937, near Freeport.

Bernard Masulla, 22, described by Ford as the chief "trigger man," and Booker Johnson, 42, colored, among the five indicted in the killing, said as defense witnesses yesterday that Ford's testimony was false.

'Not At Slaying Scene.'

Masulla said he was a friend of Serino and of a Bernice Bradley, the fifth person under indictment, but claimed he was in Pittsburgh when Conn was slain.

Johnson, who said he was in Newark, O., that day, denied acquaintance with any of the accused. Masulla, attacking Ford's statement that the gang transported women for immoral purposes, denied he procured and administered a "shot in the arm" to a protesting Delaware, O., victim who Ford said was taken to Steubenville, O.

Defense counsel placed on the stand other witnesses from Pittsburgh, Steubenville and Huntington, W. Va., who denied Ford's narrative of white slavery and murder.

Attorney Jesse K. George said he would prove Serino was with his mother in Easton, Pa., when the patrolman was felled as he stopped to question occupants of a parked automobile.

Prosecutor Fred Crum announced several rebuttal witnesses would testify for the state.

STUDIES 4 BIDS

Control Board Checks Offers on Forest Avenue Paving.

The city board of control today was studying four bids submitted by two Mansfield firms for the paving of Forest avenue from Marion avenue to Bartley avenue.

The proposals were opened yesterday by the board which consists of Mayor Claude M. Hunter and Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist.

Nist said the contract however would not be awarded for "at least a few days" until the type of pavement is decided upon.

The Mansfield Asphalt Paving company bid $6,899.30 on a concrete surface and $7,746.30 on asphalt paving. George C. Herring and Son entered a bid of $7,098.60 for a concrete pavement and $7,810.60 on the asphalt.

DEATH CLAIMS MAYOR'S FATHER

John E. Wolff, 81, Kin of Willard Executive Stricken at Home.

WILLARD—John E. Wolff, 81, father of Mayor J. L. Wolff, died at his home here last night following a lingering illness. He was a carpenter in this vicinity for 60 years.

Surviving beside his son are his wife, Josaphena; a daughter, Mrs. Edith Teagarden of Willard; a sister, Mrs. Frank Reichert of Attica; two brothers, Albert and George of Willard, and a grandson.

Funeral services will be held at the Trinity Lutheran church at 2:30 p. m. Monday. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery. The body was removed to the Fink funeral home where it will remain until time of services.

DRIVER TO FACE COURT TUESDAY

Mansfielder Accused of Operating Car While Intoxicated.

Glenn P. Bobst, 20 South Linden road, will face Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch in municipal court Tuesday on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Bobst, through his counsel, Atty. George Blecker, asked for the continuance when arraigned this morning. Judge Kalbfleisch fixed bond at $200.

Bobst was arrested by police last night after Patrolman E. D. Mitchell had stopped him at Prospect street and Lexington avenue. He said he had followed the car in from Bellville and that the driver was weaving "all over the road" and had run at least five cars off the highway. He also charged the car had no lights.

FAIR ENOUGH!

U. S. Shares Humiliation of Britain, France Over Downfall of the Czechs

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—To be perfectly truthful, Britain, France and this country are suffering more from humiliation and shame in the case of Czechoslovakia than from sorrow at the passing of an experimental republic.

All three are deeply humiliated because an enemy who had his nose rubbed in the dust in 1918 and in the years ensuing has come off the floor with a crazy look in his eye and stood down those who licked him.

The situation is a reminder of a prize fight story, probably one of Charlie Van Loan's, in which a half-starved club fighter with a sick wife on his mind was knocked flat and left for dead on the canvas, but suddenly bounced up, clear out of his head from worry, privation and punishment, and chased his opponent over the ropes.

The democracies are ashamed because the one whom they lately delighted to kick around and then to pity has looked them in the eye and made them flinch.

* * *

This country cannot escape a share of the same feeling, because the U. S. A. established an export trade in democracies and then pretended to be just waiting for a street car when Hitler asked point blank whether anyone wanted to make anything out of it as he wiped out the last democracy east of the Rhine.

Czechoslovakia was an awkward experiment at best, containing in a small country, intended as a model, many of the very elements which made Austria-Hungary offensive to the pestiferous idealists that the Americans were in the war days.

By sheer force of idealism and wishing, the conquerors thought to extinguish or compromise the beloved hatreds of groups of people who had taken turns oppressing and being oppressed by one another for hundreds of years.

It just didn't work, and the odds are that if Hitler and Germany hadn't broken up Czechoslovakia at this time, some other combination of events would have broken it up in the future.

From the idealistic standpoint, France behaved quite badly after the war in her impoliteness to the Germans in the occupied country, but the truth is that the Germans would have been just as sore and eager to avenge a licking however kindly they might have been treated.

* * *

Moreover, the sum that all of the French did to them is only a fraction of the brutality that Frenchmen and Belgians suffered from the Germans during the long invasion. No nation likes a licking, and the ideal unfortunately doesn't mesh with reality. If the French had helped the Germans to dust themselves off with apologies for the regrettable necessity of knocking them down in a fight which the Germans started, the Germans would have thought the French were afraid of their vengeance. And, lacking suppression over that brief spell of years, they would have been on the march again just that much sooner.

Certainly human nature and history give no encouragement to the illusion that magnanimous treatment would have quelled a natural desire of the vanquished to get hunk.

Of course all this is leading to another great war, and all who try to persuade themselves that this war somehow will not be are merely sweeping their troubles under the rug. But inasmuch as Nazism and its funny little menial, Mussolini's Fascism, have selected Bolshevism for their pet enemy, the true democracies would be wise to step out of the way and let them fight Russia.

Eastern Storm Delays 'Not That It Matters'

Jane Williams' column, "Not That It Matters," which appears on this page Saturdays, is missing today—a casualty of the eastern storm. A vacation trip took her through northeastern Canada and New England, and crippled mail service, due to the storm, failed to get her column through for publication today.

THREE SUNDAY SCHOOLS MARK PROMOTION DAY

Central Methodist, Baptist and St. Matthew's to Hold Annual Exercises.

Sunday schools of three Mansfield churches will hold their annual promotion day exercises Sunday morning.

Exercises will be held at Central Methodist, Park Avenue Baptist, and St. Matthew's Lutheran churches. Promotions will be made from the cradle roll to beginners, beginners to primary, primary to junior, and junior to senior and intermediate departments.

Forty-nine will receive promotions at Central Methdoist church. All departments will assemble for the exercises with Mrs. E. A. Conant, teacher in the Sunday school, giving the address. Certificates of promotion will be given to all by Rev. Paul Hollingshead, pastor. He will be assisted by Mrs. Eugene Berry, cradle roll superintendent; Mrs. H. D. Bishop, beginners superintendent; Miss Dorothy Curtis, primary superintendent; Mrs. Keith Frary, junior superintendent and Harry Hostettler, senior superintendent. Bibles and books on Christ will also be given to primary and beginner children.

Join In Church Service.

Exercises at the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held during the church service at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Hayes M. Braker, pastor, will speak on the subject, "Why Do Right." The Senior choir will sing "All Glory, Laud and Honor," by Peschner-Bach, and Lawrence S. Frank, minister of music will play three organ selections, "Canzone Amorosa" by Nevin; "Prayer," by Humperdinch, and "Resoluto," by Parker.

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be guest speaker at the pre-Rally day covered dish supper to be held at the church at 6:30 p. m. Friday. Charles Abele, church school superintendent, will preside, and Mrs. D. C. Cole is chairman of the supper committee.

The Earnest Workers class will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bellnap, 2 Park drive. Mrs. Harry Balliet and Mrs. Ray Hout will be associate hostesses. The monthly meeting of the Charles H. Huston class will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, with LaVerne Miller, president, in charge.

St. Matthew's promotion exercises will be held during the Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. The church will hold its Rally day program Oct. 2. A goal of 325 for attendance has been set.

The annual congregational meeting will be held next Friday evening at the church. Reports of all departments will be given, and election of Sunday school and church officers will be held. A program of entertainment has been planned, and refreshments will be served by the Amoma Sunday school class.

REPUBLICANS IN NEW QUARTERS

County Organization Moves Into Warner Brothers Building.

Richland county Republicans had set up headquarters today on the second floor of the Warner Brothers building, 54½ North Main street, where they will hold their rallies during the fall campaign.

The party conducted its 1932 campaign from the same location, but later moved to the Walpark building and last year to the Mohican building. The new quarters will seat about 1,200 persons.

G. O. P. leaders will officially open their drive for votes next Thursday night when John W. Bricker, candidate for governor, will speak at county headquarters.

SPECIAL HOSE

Only two feet from flaming crucibles of white hot metal that would blister and crack ordinary hose, special air hose are used to operate foundry lifts day after day and night after night.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH HOST TO ENDEAVOR RALLY

Oregon Man to Be Speaker at Annual Fall Meeting of Richland Societies.

The annual fall Richland county Christian Endeavor rally will be held Monday evening at the First Christian church with Arthur J. Stanley of Dayton, Ore., associate president of the International Christian Endeavor society, and a student at the Theological school at Colgate university, Syracuse, N. Y., as the guest speaker.

A covered-dish dinner at 6:30 p. m. will open the rally. The meeting, scheduled for 8 p. m., will be in charge of Fred Ott of Shelby. The theme of the rally will be "Living for Christ." Arthur Boyce, Mansfield, will be in charge of music, and Miss Geneva Craig, Mansfield, will have charge of the devotional service.

Special awards will be given the societies having the largest attendance. Plans will also be discussed for Richland county's part in the International C. E. convention at Cleveland next summer. Societies from Mansfield, Lexington, Plymouth, Shelby, Shenandoah, and Ganges will be represented at the meeting here.

ADMINISTER COMMUNION

Holy Communion will be administered at St. Paul and St. Mark's Lutheran churches Sunday morning during the regular church services.

At St. Paul church the service begins at 10 a. m., and will be in charge of Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor. A quartet comprised of Miss Jane Weuthrick, Mrs. Herman L. Gilbert, Ralph Chamberlain, and Rev. Gilbert will sing "Seek Ye the Lord," by Handel, and for the offertory the choir will sing, "God So Loved the World," by Stainer.

The St. Mark's service will begin at 10:30 a. m. The pastor, Rev. J. Louis Wolf, will preach a Communion meditation on the subject, "Why Have a Church." The church will hold its annual congregational meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. Following the meeting a social hour will be held.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION

Women delegates from the five Lutheran churches in Mansfield are expected to go to Canton next week to attend the annual Women's Misionary convention of the Synod of Ohio, which opens there Tuesday.

The convention will be held at Trinity Lutheran church and continues through Thursday. St. Paul Lutheran church will be represented by Mrs. William Bolley and Mrs. O. L. Seybold. Mrs. Herman L. Gilbert will attend as chairman of Light Brigade work.

Mrs. C. S. Izenour of St. Luke's Lutheran church will present a report of the synodical "Missionary Bulletin."

FASHION PARADE

IN MONDAY NIGHT'S ISSUE
AND CONTINUING ALL WEEK
WITH EVENTS OF INTEREST
TO EVERY MANSFIELD SHOPPER

A "HOBBY" DISPLAY

AND A MIS-SPELLED WORD CONTEST
WILL BE FEATURED IN THE DISPLAY
WINDOWS OF PARTICIPATING FIRMS

Prizes Will Be Awarded . . . Here's How to Win!

Follow the show windows of participating firms. In each window featuring a "Hobby Display" there will be a placard,giving the description of the Hobby and the name of the owner. One word on this card will be mis-spelled.

All you have to do is determine the word in each window that is mis-spelled and then write a short essay of less than 25 words on the subject "Why I should make it a 'Hobby' to shop in Mansfield," on the back of your entry blank.

Get your entry blank from any participating firm.

A first prize, $15; second prize, $10; third prize, $5 and ten $1 prizes, will be judged on Sept. 29th and awarded Sept. 30th, for the nearest correct and best essay.

A prize will also be awarded the owner of the best Hobby Display in each classification, with Blue Ribbons for other places.

It's "Fall Display Week" an annual event when the merchants combine their showings of New Fall and Winter merchandise. All the newest fashions in Shoes, Wearing Apparel, Jewelry, Home Appliances, Home Furnishings and Furniture are on display.

Mansfield's merchants have done their utmost to bring you the latest . . . shop their windows and stores this week. You'll find the displays interesting, and the prices reasonable.
